Despite Many Russian Warnings

Moscow Faces Giant Potential Might of US in Bid for Power

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP) — The United States probably could hit Russia swiftly with more than two billion tons of nuclear explosive force if the Soviets attempted an attack on the Western European nations before those countries build up their own atomic defenses.

Russia must reckon with this probability in pursuing what the North Atlantic Council describes as a campaign "to insure for Soviet forces a monopoly of nuclear weapons on the European continent."

Moscow, through its propaganda medium, has been bombarding the Atlantic Alliance nations with warnings about dire risks they run if they harbor atomic weapon sites in their territory. The foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Council, in sessions at Bonn, Germany, yesterday, asserted that "it is the availability of the most modern weapons of defense which will discourage attempts" to launch attack on the Alliance.

These weapons are availbale now in the nuclear firepower of the United States Air Force, Navy and Army. The precise figures used by American military officials in their estimates of U.S. capability are, of course, secret. But these guidelines may be assumed:

The measurement of effective nuclear power is now defined in terms of delivery of hydrogen and fission explosive. The stockpile and production capability for bombs is substantially greater than the means of delivery by aircraft, missiles or atomic-firing guns.

The Air Force probably has at this time about 1,800 aircraft capable of handling H-bombs or A-bombs, plus several hundred aircraft of the Navy.

If all these planes could be counted upon to get through to target on their missions, the amount of nuclear explosives delivered would be several times the two billion tons of force estimated as realistic. In nuclear weapons, the measurement is in field of energy equivalent to one ton of conventional TNT—A kiloton is one million tons. Fission weapons are measured in kiloton yield, hydrogen bombs in megatons.

The 1,500 to 1,700 heavy and medium bombers of the Strategic Air Command—B52s, B36s, and B47s—compose the primary "deterrent" force. In addition there are the jet bombers of the Tactical Air Command, including the B57 and F84 jet fighter-bombers. Both these planes have nuclear capability.

Air Force officials, including Gen. Nathan Twining, chief of staff, and Gen. Thomas White, vice chief, have emphasized that there is a difference between a "deterrent" force and a "retaliatory" force. The deterrent force is all the planes available before a war starts; the retaliatory force is that part of the original, deterrent force left after the enemy has made his opening attack on planes and bases and after USAF planes have penetrated the defenses of Russia.

Supplying Missiles Considered

Would Name Allied Forces Commander As Holding Agent

BONN, Germany, May 4 (AP) — The 15 North Atlantic Allies tonight were reported weighing a plan to make nuclear weapons and guided missiles available at once, wherever needed, for the defense of Europe from the Arctic to the Aegean.

The United States, as a leader in both fields, would be expected to supply these weapons for stockpiling.

A ranking Western statesman explained the plan is to designate the Supreme Commander of the Allied Forces in Europe as the holding agent for the armaments in peacetime. The commander always has been an American. Gen. Lauris Norstad holds the post now.

The proposal has two purposes:

1. To avoid the need to equip national Allied armies with live nuclear weapons in peacetime.

2. To sidestep U. S. laws that prevent the handover of American nuclear arms and secrets to foreign powers.

Suggestions that nuclear equipment be given to some NATO countries in Europe have touched off political arguments in West Germany and elsewhere. Russia has warned West Germany, Norway, Denmark, the Netherlands, Greece, and Turkey against accepting A-weapons.

Word of the new plan leaked out 24 hours after the NATO Council of Foreign Ministers had spelled out a resolve to use "all available means," including nuclear weapons, to meet any aggression. The ministers dispersed today.

Secretary of State Dulles flew to Paris to meet a group of American ambassadors after holding a three-hour conference with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. The Dulles-Adenauer discussion dwelt especially on ways of bolstering West German resistance to Russian diplomatic pressures.

There were reports that the United States intends to back a move to elevate West Germany's status in NATO.

Democrat-Capital Wins Many Honors Among State Press

PROCLAIMS MUSIC WEEK—Mayor Julian H. Bagby signs a proclamation establishing the week of May 5 as Music Week. With him is Mrs. Dorothy Hopkins, general chariman of Music Week for its sponsor, the Helen G. Steele Music Club. Local music talent will appear at the various service clubs in Sedalia throughout the week, as well as on radio and television. Sedalia has been recognized as one of the outstanding cities in the country for publicizing Music Week; ranking with metropolitan cities. (Podgett photo)

Seven Awards Are Presented Saturday at Columbia Dinner

The Sedalia Democrat-Capital was asked to take seven big bows Saturday at the 48th Annual Journalism Awards Banquet of the Missouri Press Association in Columbia.

The Capital was judged the best daily newspaper in Missouri in general excellence, and for that it won a handsome plaque presented by the Advertising Club of Missouri.

The Capital was also judged first place winner in typographical improvement among Missouri dailies and received another plaque, this one from the Western Newspaper Association.

The Democrat also figures in the general excellence recognition, winning third place, the first time in many years two newspapers produced in the same plant have placed among the winners in a single division. The Democrat received a certificate of award.

This performance was repeated, in reverse, when The Democrat was judged the Missouri daily with the best editorials, winning a plaque presented by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and The Capital won third place, earning a certificate of award. The editorials in both The Democrat and Capital are written by Editor George H. Scruton.

Another certificate of award for honorable mention went to Sports Editor D. Kelly Scruton for his personal column, "Sports Scraps," in The Democrat.

A seventh award, a certificate for honorable mention, was won by the Democrat in the best agricultural coverage division.

On hand in Columbia to receive the awards was Editor Scruton, before a gathering of more than 300 newspapermen and other dignitaries.

The Capital's awards were preceded this year by its selection by the Inland Daily Press Association, which covers approximately 20 states, as the best daily among those of less than 10,000 circulation. It was also a finalist in the judging for the coveted N. W. Ayer Cup, the largest competitive event among American newspapers. Its choice as general excellence leader in Missouri this year repeats an honor that was extended to The Democrat last year.

Second in the general excellence division was the Cape Girardeau Southeast Missourian. Honorable mention went to the Mexico Ledger and the Independence Examiner.

The Washington Missourian won the award for weekly newspaper with a circulation of 2,000 or more, The Eldon Advertiser was second, the Salem News, third, and the Richmond News and the Grant City Times Tribune received honorable mention.

The Gallatin North Missourian topped the class for weekly newspapers with less than 2,000 circulation. The Stanberry Headlight was second and the Rock Port Atchison County Mail, third. Honorable mention went to the Pleasant Hill Times and the California Herald.

Truman Says Ike Is Failure In Leadership

Addresses Democrat Dinner at Guard Armory in Capital

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP) — Harry S. Truman accused President Eisenhower tonight of a failure of leadership and said he has "played political bunk with the budget."

And the former President told fellow Democrats that what he called the "tight money" policy and high interest rates "can bring on a depression."

"This," he said, "is a reversion to the trickle-down theory that has guided the Republican party from the time of its inception. It is a means of transferring income from the poor who need it to the rich who don't. The results are increasing maladjustments in our economy, with danger signals rising higher on every hand."

Truman's remarks, given out in advance in excerpt form, were prepared for a Democratic dinner at the National Guard Armory starring himself and Adlai E. Stevenson in oratorical roles.

The $100-a-plate affair, to help fill the party's more than empty coffers, was the climactic event of a three-day party rally in which Democratic leaders from over the country tuned up for next year's congressional and gubernatorial elections.

They did it with predictions of budget and tax cuts—and perhaps unemployment—and with swats at Eisenhower and the administration's financial policies.

Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, House Democratic leader John McCormack of Massachusetts and others took turns hooting at the Republicans as a party in collapse, split, leaderless, incapable of governing.

On the spending question, Williams stood somewhat apart from some Democrats in Congress. If the Democrats keep faith with party pledges to meet new challenges with new methods and ideas, he said, "we will not cooperate with the Republican reactionaries to meat-ax the Eisenhower budget."

Truman said he foresees "a great showdown" coming in the next few years on the most critical domestic issues—the budget, fiscal management, high interest rates, economic growth, the exploitation of resources, the spread of monopoly.

"I foresee," he said, "a last great onslaught by the manipulators of special privilege who work behind the propaganda smokescreen of the present administration. They are going to make a last great effort to take over the economic control of the country before they are thrown out of office in 1960.

Sees Approval Of Minimum Wage Move

Labor Subcommittee Schedules Closed Meeting Next Week

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass) predicted today a labor subcommittee he heads will approve a bill to bring more than twice as many additional workers under the minimum wage law as President Eisenhower asked.

The subcommittee, which held extensive hearings on the legislation, plans to meet in closed session next week to act on it.

Kennedy's bill would extend the $1 an hour minimum wage to about six million workers not now protected by the law.

The administration's proposal, presented to the subcommittee by Secretary of Labor Mitchell, would bring in an additional 2,500,000. This recommendation never has been offered in the form of a bill.

The Massachusetts senator told a reporter he was confident his measure would have the support of at least all the four Democrats on his subcommittee. He said that he also was sure it would win the backing later of the full labor committee.

Kennedy described Mitchell's proposal as inadequate. By the Labor Department's own estimates, the senator said, only about 400,000 of the extra 2,500,000 to be covered under the proposal now are getting less than $1 an hour.

The administration plan would deny premium overtime pay to the additional 2,500,000. Many of the workers brought under the law by Kennedy's bill would be entitled to the time and a half rate for overtime.

General to Be Speaker

All 'Out' Observance Of Armed Forces Day

The first "all out" recognition of Armed Forces Day plans are well under way by the Military Affairs and Aviation division of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce. Armed Forces Day Eve, Friday, May 17 a banquet is being held in the Smith-Cotton high school cafeteria to which the public is invited to hear two talks by nationally-known figures.

A subject of great interest to the world today is "Guided Missiles" and as much as can be told on the progress of guided missiles by the United States Army will be given by Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, commanding general of the Air Research and Development Command at Inglewood, Calif.

Through the efforts of United States Senator Stuart Symington, Maj. Gen. Schriever accepted an invitation to speak in Sedalia. Sen. Symington accepted the invitation of the committee in charge to be a guest at this meeting and to introduce the general, whom he has known for a number of years.

Known throughout the Armed Forces as "Missileman Schriever", which reputation he has gained through the progress of the guided missile program, the generalis a young man filled with the first-hand knowledge on guided missiles and rockets.

Tickets for the affair can be obtained by calling the Chamber of Commerce or contacting members of the board of directors. Sedalia's allocation is 300, and the remaining 625 have been sent out to communities in the Whiteman AFB area. The program is not just local but an area affair so that every community can have its part in honoring the Armed Forces.

Col. A. J. Beck, commanding officer of the 340th Bomb Wing at Whiteman, and Col. Richard V. Kline, commanding officer of Whiteman AFB, are cooperating with the Chamber and assisting in arrangements to make it a gala affair.

Man Critical After Mishap On Hiway 40

A crash between a passenger car and truck resulted in critical injuries to a Ferguson, Mo., man about 5:30 o'clock Saturday morning on U.S. Highway 40, five miles east of Sweet Springs.

Carl Wayne Riedel, 22, of Ferguson, an employee of the Lincoln-Ford-Mercury plant at St. Louis, is in the Bothwell hospital. Riedel received chest injuries, lacerations and abrasions. Late Saturday night his condition remained critical.

According to a report of the State Highway Patrol, Riedel was driving a 1953 Pontiac sedan west on Highway 40 when the car veered to the left into the oncoming line of traffic. The car crashed head-on into a 1956 Ford tractor-trailer driven by Sam Mason Turner, 35, of Columbia.

It was reported Riedel had indicated he apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his car.

The car was reported to have been demolished and considerable damage done to the front of the tractor.

Riedel was given emergency treatment at the scene by Dr. C. A. Worley, and then was brought to

Sedalian Is Elected To State Office In Church Brotherhood

At the annual two-day meeting of the Missouri Baptist Brotherhood in Kansas City, Thursday and Friday, C. N. Farley, 1605 West Ninth, a member of the East Sedalia Baptist Church and a deacon of that church, was elected assistant - secretary for the state organization at the closing meeting Friday evening.

E. W. Poore, Kansas City, was elected president of the state brotherhood. Other officers were: H. V. Windsor, King City, and Don Kennedy, Nevada, elected vice-presidents; W. K. Leak, Maplewood, secretary.

About 600 laymen, 175 Baptist churches throughout Missouri attended the annual event.

Will Publish McCarthy Story on Probes Soon

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP) — Friends and associates of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) disclosed today that he was completing work on a book dealing with congressional investigations when he was stricken with a fatal illness.

McCarthy, who died Thursday, also had collected a vast amount of material for another book, they said, which was to have dealt with "communism and subversion of policy."

Sen. Mundt (R-SD.) a long time friend, and Ray Kiermas, McCarthy's administrative assistant, said the senator's book on congressional investigations is planned for early publication.

April Rains Ease Drought In the West

More Moisture Could Revive Subsoil, Fill Still Low Reservoirs

DALLAS, Tex., May 4 (AP)—April downpours have staggered the great drought of the Southwest and Great Plains.

More moisture could erase the last scars by restoring subsoil moisture and fill some still low reservoirs, a survey by the Associated Press showed today.

In most of Texas and parts of Oklahoma, too much rain has fallen—it has washed out some crops and kept farmers out of their fields at a critical time.

But in much of the area seared by the great drought of the 1950s enough moisture has fallen to give farmers some of the brightest harvest prospects since the dry weather began about 1949.

Some trouble spots remain, but even these have more moisture than in recent years.

Authorities generally give this test of a drought breaker; subsoil moisture restored, lakes and reservoirs with adequate water, and grass growing again on rangland.

Areas where more moisture is needed now or soon include Far West Texas beyond the Pecos River, most of Arizona and New Mexico, Prowers County in southeast Colorado, and western Kansas. Most of these areas have adequate moisture for the moment.

A striking example of how the April rains helped occurred at the Texas Research Foundation farms near Dallas. At the end of March the soil had only 4 inches of moisture. At the end of April, moisture extended down 36 inches.

Mayflower II Gains Speed Enroute to US

LOND'S END, England, May 4 (AP)—Mayflower II picked up the northeast trade winds today and was sailing blithely over the Atlantic Ocean at six knots en route to America.

Skipper Alan Villiers radioed the little sailing ship's position as 26 degrees 50 minutes north and 18 degrees 47 minutes west, about 118 miles south-southwest of the Canaries. The Mayflower had made well over 100 miles in the past day.

LaMonte Will Vote On Two Bond Issues

The residents of LaMonte will vote on two bond issues Tuesday for a total of $125,000 to improve and extend the waterworks and sewerage system in the community. One bond issue will be for $70,000 of regular bonds and the other will be for $55,000 in revenue bonds and the other will be for $55,000 in revenue bonds.

A two-thirds majority is required to pass the regular bond issue and a four-sevenths majority is required to pass the revenue bonds.

All-School Music Fest Due Thursday

The Sedalia Public Schools will present the annual All-School Music Festival at Jennie Jaynes Stadium on Thursday evening, May 9, at 8 o'clock.

A chorus of students from the first and second grades of all the schools will open the program under the direction of Mrs. Eugenia Arnold, music director at Washington School.

Other feature numbers of the evening will include students from all grades in all the public schools.

A chorus of third and fourth grade students will sing under the direction of Florence Hert from Broadway School. Mrs. Don Donath from Whittier School will direct the combined fifth, sixth and seventh grade chorus and Mary Jo Case will direct the eighth grade chorus. John Williams will direct the mixed chorus from Hubbard School.

On the program from Smith-Cotton High School will be the combined Girls' Glee Clubs under the direction of Mrs. Leroy Iuchs, the Smith-Cotton band under the direction of Mrs. Carl Schrader and Bob Cummings and a Senior Mixed Chorus.

The complete program will be under the supervision of Mrs. Carl Schrader, director of music in the Sedalia Public Schools; P. A. Sillers, directory of elementary education, and the principals of all Sedalia Public Schools. Mrs. Bob Owens will be in charge of seating arrangements for all groups.

There will be no admission and the public is invited.

To Present Awards For Flower Displays

The Women's Civic Club of Versailles is presenting awards during months for the most attractive display of seasonable flowers and shrubs.

Mr. and Mrs. Will F. Berry received the award in April for the display of tulips and other spring flowers at their home.

Old Favorites and New

Sedalia Men's Choral Club Will Present Tenth Annual Concert

The tenth annual spring concert of the Sedalia Mens Choral Club, Abe Rosenthal, director, will be presented Tuesday night, at Smith-Cotton High School auditorium, at 8:15 p.m.

Old favorites and new numbers will be presented, including an arrangement made especially for the club of Jack Crawfords new number, "My Course to Thee. This was prepared by one of Fred Warings arrangers. The popular duo team of Al Domingue and John Vandekamp will also be heard in special numbers.

A feature of the program will be the "Helen Booth Orchestra, in their first public appearance. Booth Watmough and his wife Helen are leaders and organizers of this group which consists of 15 persons from the local and surrounding areas. Mr. Watmough makes his own creative arrangements, and in private life is an industrial engineer for Town and Country.

The choral club will draw from its repertoire of nearly 150 numbers for the presentation, which is made annually in appreciation of the sponsorship of local business people. The concert will be open to the public and no charge made for admission.

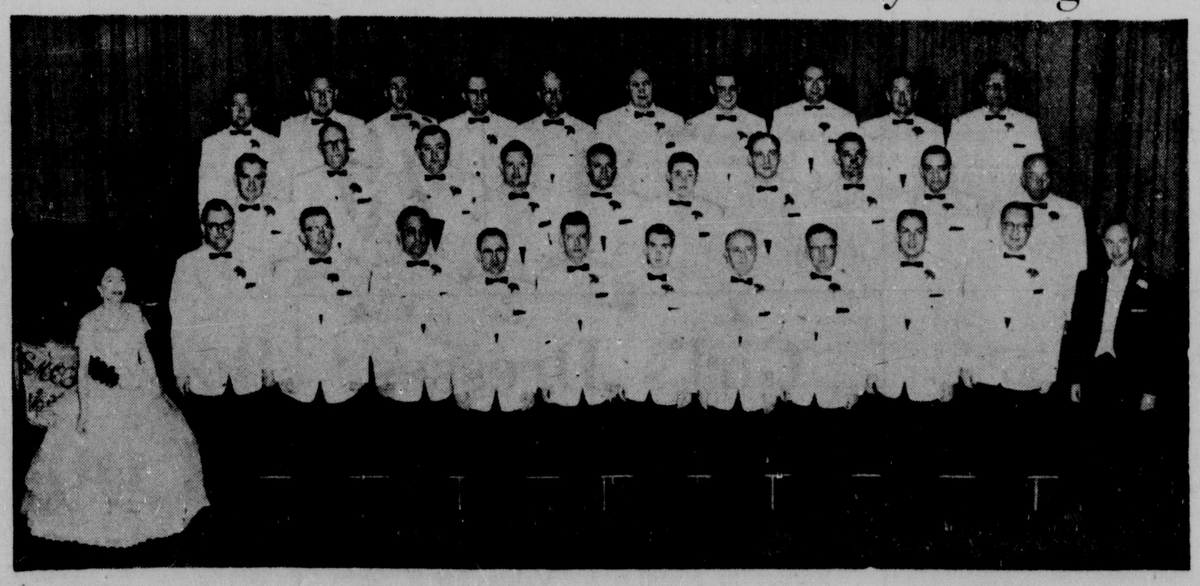

The Choral Clubs final concert of the year will b given for the Civic Clubs of Clinton next Thursday night, May 9, at Clinton, Mo.

The concert program Tuesday night will be:

US Envoy Arrives In Tunisia on Tour

TUNIS, Tunisia, May 4 (AP) — Ambassador James P. Richards, special U.S. envoy who has been touring the Middle East to explain the Eisenhower Doctrine against Communist expansion, arrived today from Israel. He leaves Monday for Morocco.

Coincidence

This is the kind of weather that makes your heart sing—and it just so happens that this is Music Week.

Fair and warmer today, tonight and Monday. High today in upper 60's.

The temperature Saturday was 40 at 7 a.m. and 56 at 1 p.m. The low Friday night was 38.

The temperature one year ago today, high 87, low 58; two years ago, high 86, low 50; and three years ago, high 63, low 41, with .02 inch of rain.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks Saturday 53.9, fall.1.

At State Fairgrounds

Jaycees Hold Teenage Road-e-o at 1 Today

The second annual Jaycee Teen-Age Road-e-o will be held this afternoon at 1 o'clock at the State Fairgrounds. It was originally scheduled for April 14 but was postponed because of the unseasonable weather.

Any teen-ager between the ages of 16 and 19 inclusive is eligible to try his or her driving skill on the course that will be set up in front of the administration building at the fairgrounds. Other regulations are that a teen-ager must not have had any traffic violations in the last six months, must have a valid driver's license and have parents' consent.

The contest consists of a written test and four obstacle-type exercises. The four exercises are driving forward and backward through stanchions in a weaving pattern, driving in a straight line both forward and backward, driving through a 180-degree turn and stopping with the front bumper directly over a line, and parallel parking.

Winner of the local contest will be given a plaque, will be the guest of the Sedalia Jaycees at a banquet on Thursday evening and will receive an all-expense paid trip to the state contest in Parkville on June 8.

Prizes on the state level will be, for first place, a $100 savings bond, trophy and an all-expense paid trip to the national contest in Washington, D. C.; second place, a $50 savings bond and trophy; third place, a $25 savings bond.

The Teen-Age Road-e-o is patterned after the National Truck Roadeo and is sponsored nationally by the Jaycees, Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., the American Trucking Associations, Inc., Chrysler Corp. and the Pure Oil Co.

On the local level it is sponsored by the Sedalia Jaycees with the cooperation of Routszong Motor Co., O'Connor Motor Co., W. A. Smith Motor Co., Askew Motor Co. and Cal Rodgers Motor Co.

The public as well as the Jaycees are urged to attend the contest.

Sacred Heart News

Record Crowd Attends Annual Spring Concert of Glee Club

By Phyllis Aggeler

A record crowd attended the annual spring concert which was held last Sunday evening in the Sacred Heart auditorium. The mixed chorus began the program with the school song, followed by "Stodola Pumpa" and the "Whiffenpoof Song." Then, while tiny lights flashed on the darkened ceiling, the girls chorus sang "Glow Worm.' Next, the sextet rendered "Without a Song" accompanied by Mrs. Earl Paxton. This was followed by the Freshmen girls' quintet singing "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes."

A novelty number entitled "All Kids Do Is Work" was next on the program. "All Kids Do Is Work" was sung by Carolyn Wiemholt, Gloria Robb, and Carolyn Saenz. The original accompaniment was provided by Donald Franke at the piano. The mixed chorus then sang "Finlandia" and "With a Hey and a Hi and a Ho Ho Ho!"

Next came a duet entitled "Let the Rest of the World Go By with Leah Gunn and Mary Lou Vickers. Martha Berlin followed singing "Nocturne. The mixed chorus then sang "Youll Never Walk Alone, and brought forth laughter from the audience with a very comical version of "Polly Wolly Doodle.

The Junior girls trio was next on the program singing "My Hero, from the "Chocolate Soldier and "Deep Purple. The mixed chorus then sang "Count Your Blessings, followed by "Prayer from Hansel and Gretal, and "He. Carolyn Moser came next singing "Ave Maria. She was followed by the boys chorus singing "Mother Machree.

At that time Sister Everildis was presented a lovely bouquet from the Glee Club, by the Glee Club president, Mary Lou Vickers, in appreciation of the time and work she put in as Glee Club director. The mixed chorus concluded the program singing "O Bonu Jesu. Rita Geiser was the accompanist for the program.

A panel of ten medical people presented an educational program Wednesday afternoon in the Sacred Heart auditorium. The program was designed to give the high school students some idea of the varied careers in medicine. Those on the panel were Dr. Thomas Hopkins, Leon Whitney, James Franks, Tom Baker, Walter Gault, Mrs. Carl Siegal, Mrs. Alvin Lowe, Mrs. Robert Stewart, and Mrs. D. R. Edwards. Mrs. Robert Lemire served as chairman.

The S-H students were overjoyed Friday when the Spectrums arrived. They were distributed to the students during the last period Friday afternoon.

Versailles Youth Gets State Farmer Degree

Daryl Lehman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lehman, Versailles, received his State Farmer Degree at the State FFA convention in Columbia. Daryl is a Junior this year and has had nine productive projects including corn, oats, lamb and wool, park and dairy. Swine was his main project. He received 116 premiums in 1956 at State, district and county fairs. He has participated in many other FFA activities. Only 290 of the boys enrolled in Vocational Agriculture receive this degree. There are more than 10,000 FFA boys in Missouri.

Circle to Have Plant And Bulb Exchange

Daisy Bell Circle of Epworth Methodist Church met in the church dining room May 1 for a covered dish dinner and business meeting. Mrs. Maude Keithley and Mrs. Minnie Ratje were hostesses.

The chairman, Mrs. Ruth Jackson, had charge of the business session. Fourteen members answered roll call. Eight cards were signed and mailed out. It was reported that 41 cards were sent and 62 sick calls made. The devotional service, centering around Mother's Day was given by Mrs. Pearl Morgan, Mrs. May Varney and Mrs. Alice Schneider.

A money making project was discussed and it was decided to have a plant and bulb exchange.

The circle took cookies, place cards and napkins to the Campbell Nursing Home at Easter time. Mrs. F. O. Withers made miniature Easter hats to be given as favors.

Mrs. Mildred Gramlich and Mrs. Mayme Starke will be hostesses at the June meeting.

Demonstrates How To Iron Ruffled Doilies

Mrs. Vincel Fry led in singing and Mrs. Jess Parson gave the devotional. Mrs Clyde Paul presented a lesson or food preservation. Miss Sadie Homan gave a demonstration on washing and ironing ruffled doilies. Mrs. Jack Phillips read a letter from Miss Jeanne Palmer, county agent.

The next meeting will be May 21 with Mrs. B. J. Wilkening.

Benefit Dance For Cerebral Palsy Fund

The Hown Dawg Whirlers will hold a benefit square dance at Carpenter's Hall in Warrensburg on Thursday night, May 9. Tommie Pharr of Lee's Summit will be the caller. Proceeds will go to the cerebral palsy fund.

SERVICE AWARD—Elmer Watson, left, receives a 47-year service pin recently from S. E. Boyle, manager of the Sedalia Swift and Co. plant, prior to Watson's retirement May 4. All of his service, which began on March 6, 1910, was at the Sedalia plant.

Always Worked at Same Plant

Elmer Watson Retires After 47 Years Service With Swift

Elmer Watson, Terry Hotel, has retired from Swift and Co. and there are nine gold stars on the pin given him by the company, a star for every five years. A couple of extra gold points of a star could be added, too, because Watson has been with the company for 47 years, all of it served at the Sedalia plant.

Watson was born in Sedalia and has never lived any place else. His brother, Emmett, was working at Swifts 47 years ago and he decided he would like to work there, too, so he asked for a job went in the poultry packing department and has been there ever since. Emmett left there a long time ago and is now in Illinois.

There have been a lot of changes in his job, said Watson since he first went on it. It is easier now, because there are machines. In those days, he explained, they picked chickens dry on a rope, now they are scalded by one machine and de-feathered in another They would dry pack them in barrels for freezing with nothing but the feathers off and they would reach the stores in about 60 days. Today they are fresh packed, fully dressed, ready for the table and are in the stores the next day. There are about 18,000 chickens picked a day now, Watson said.

During those 47 years he has seen two or three floods at the plant during big rains. Water would fill the basement and lack about six inches of touching the ceiling. Now a wall has been built to keep the water out.

Then there was the big fire which started at about 6 oclock in the morning, and when he and other employees came down at 7 oclock the building was still blazing. So, there he stood, with all the others, watching his job go up in smoke, because the building was burned to the ground. That was somewhere about 1917. But Swift and Co. went right to work and built a new building, the big brick building at Main and Grand which is one of Sedalias best industries. And when the plant had been rebuilt, Watson went back to work in the poultry packing department.

Watson has been a faithful and dependable employee through the years. Every morning he was on the job, the first one down to the plant. "You miss people like that, said the assistant manager. And so, in appreciation of his many years of service the company presented Elmer Watson with a gift and some of his co-workers wonder how often he will visit the plant after he's retired to see everybody.

With spring in the air Watson has his plans made for now and summer time—he is going fishing. He believes he is really going to enjoy his retirement. Then with the fall season he is going to do a little hunting, too.

Orders Taken For 'No Time For Sergeants'

Mail orders are now being accepted for "No Time for Sergeants," the Broadway comedy sensation which opens a week's engagement at the Victoria Theatre, Kansas City, Monday evening, May 13, through Saturday night, May 18.

The play, fresh from a record run of 33 weeks in Chicago, deals with the hilarious events that follow the induction of a Georgia plowboy into the Air Force. The amiable, but non-conforming Will Stockdale, who breaks every Air Force rule and confuses his superiors no end, is played by James Holden. Other leading roles are taken by King Calder, Louis Beachner, Cliff Hall, Harry Holcombe, Ted Jordan and Roy Fant.

Adapted from MacHyman's best selling novel of the same name, "No Time for Sergeants" is produced by Maurice Evans and Emmett Rogers. The booking here will be the only one prior to an extended West Coast stay.

The play was staged by Morton Da Costa. Some of the spectacular settings include the interior and exterior of a plane, and three baggage cars are required for transportation. They were designed by Peter Larking. Noel Taylor supervised the costumes and lighting is by Peggy Clark.

IN STAR ROLE — James Holden as Will Stockdale in "No Time for Sergeants", the hit comedy coming to the Victoria Theater, Kansas City, May 13 - 18.

Performances every night will begin at 8:30, with matinees Wednesday, May 15, and Saturday, May 18, at 2:30. No one will be seated during the opening scene of the Broadway hit.

M-M-M-MINK! — Four-year-old Camilia Neilson obviously isn't too young to get that feeling that only mink can give a girl. On hand to meet her aunt at San Francisco's International Airport, Camilia just had to try on auntie's mink coat.

Official 1957 State Highway Maps Available

Missouri's official 1957 state highway maps now are available for distribution to state highway users. They may be obtained, free of charge, at the State Highway Commission's Main Office in Jefferson City, at any of the ten district highway offices in the state, the Urban Office in Richmond Heights, and at various other places.

Some revisions have been made in the map's appearance this year in an effort to make it even more serviceable. The actual highway map itself carries all roads on the state highway system as of Dec. 31, 1956. In addition, the face of the map carries individual maps of the St. Louis and Kansas City-Independence areas and of 42 other cities and towns of the state.

Centered on the map back is a scenic picture of the new bridge across the Missouri River at Jefferson City. The back also carries a message from and picture of Gov. James T. Blair, Jr., a name panel and a mailing panel. The balance of the map back is given over to information aimed at aiding the highway user. These aids include a mileage chart, list of cities, with their populations, map of the United States showing principal highways entering Missouri and distances from Jefferson City to other state capitals, a map showing roadside parks and panels listing rules of the road and explaining highway markings.

Goldbergs Have Made Return From England

By Miss Mary E. Tevebaugh

HOUSTONIA — Mr. and Mrs. John Smith received word that their daughter Mrs. Ernest Goldberg, Mr. Goldberg and baby have arrived in the states. They have been living in England where Airman Goldberg was stationed. He will receive his discharge and they will come to Houstonia for a visit.

Missouri to Have More Wheat Acreage Under 1958 Allotment

Missouri will have about 20,000 acres more wheat under the 1958 allotments announced recently according to Joe A. Grant, state administrative officer of the Missouri state ASC.

The 1958 wheat allotment for Missouri comes to 1,273,623 acres, he aid, compared to the 1,253,725 acres allotted for 1957. The state, county, and individual farm allotments are based on the national allotment, which for 1958 is 55 million acres, the same as last year.

Some Missouri counties will have more and some less wheat acreage in 1958 than in 1957, Grant said, even though the statewide amount is greater.

Nationally, the 1958 wheat allotments are expected to yield 800 million bushels, even after allowance for acreage put into the Soil Bank program.

Growers in commercial wheat states, including Missouri, who will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1958 come under the regulation of quotas and will be eligible to vote in the wheat marketing quota referendum on June 20 this year.

Wheat Election For Pettis Area Will Be June 20

June 20 has been set as the date when Pettis County wheat growers will vote "yes or "no on the 1958-crop wheat marketing quotas recently proclaimed by Secretary Benson, according to C. A. Staples, chairman of the Pettis County ASC committee.

The county ASC office will, as usual, set up polling places throughout the county.

Mr. Staples said that the recent marketing quota announcement marks the fifth successive year in which wheat quotas have been proclaimed. The proclamation of quotas must be made—in compliance with the law—when the U.S. wheat supply is 20 per cent or more above normal. This years supply is 56 per cent above normal.

At least two-thirds of the producers voting in the referendum must approve quotas before they can be put in effect. Individual farm quotas generally will be the actual production from the farm's wheat acreage allotment.

If the quotas are approved, Staples explained, Pettis County wheat growers who comply with their allotments will be eligible for price support on their entire production.

Wheat growers who exceed their farm acreage allotments will be subject to marketing quota penalties on their excess wheat if they have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest. The penalty will be 45 per cent of the May 1, 1958, parity price.

If quotas are not approved in the June 20 vote, there will be no restrictions on wheat marketings. Allotments will remain in effect, and wheat farmers who comply with their allotments will be eligible for price supports at 50 per cent of the parity rate, as required by law when quotas are disapproved.

School Closes With Contributive Supper

The last day of school was observed at Postal School Monday night, April 22, with a contributive supper and was followed by a program of songs, recitations, and plays by the pupils. Graduation exercises were then held for the two eighth grade graduates, Mary Ann Hulme and Hadley Newton.

Awards for perfect attendance were presented to Donnie Nichols and Alvin Dial; perfect spelling to Mary Ann Hulme, Alvin Dial, Harold Cornine, Gregorey Hulme, David Lee Nichols and Dale Younger; reading circle certificates to Mary Ann Hulme, Donnie Nichols, David Lee Nichols and Alvin Dial.

Mrs. Blanche Gilmore is the teacher of the school.

Young Drivers Have Record Death Rate

April was one of the bloodiest months on record for the youthful driver in spite of the reduction in the number of traffic deaths so far this year.

According to figures released by the Missouri Highway Patrol, 31 people under the age of 25 years died during April on rural roads. The figure exceeds the number of youths killed for the same month in 1956 and 1955, both bad years for accident fatalities.

Captain John A. Berglund, Chief of the Patrol's Safety Division, said more youthful drivers have died in the first four months of the year than in either of the two preceding years.

For the first third of this year, 89 youths have died on the rural highways while 12 more died in the urban areas, the Captain noted. He said that last year for the first four months 76 youths died in rural accidents and 19 more in urban mishaps.

Two separate accidents killing ten youths last April made it one of the worst months on Patrol records. In one five were killed when their speeding auto missed a turn on a Glasgow, Mo. street and sailed 150 feet into the Missouri River.

Five others were killed when their new auto — travelling at an estimated speed of more than 100 miles an hour — went out of control near Springfield, Mo.

"The number of people killed for the first four months of the year was 45 less than the figure for the same period of 1956," Capt. Berglund said, adding: "At one time a few weeks ago the reduction reached 60, but in spite of this improvement more youths were killed.

"The big problem right now is that some of the drivers seem to be 'cutting loose' at the wheel. The weather is good, the roads are clear. If a driver feels like speeding, now is the most likely time for him to do it.

"But they should remember that the freedom that comes with spring can be fatally deceptive."

Soil Bank Contract Prohibits Grazing

Farmers were reminded this week that they may not graze land designated for the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve during the contract period. C. A. Staples, chairman of the Pettis County ASC Committee, said that the only exception to this rule is where express permission to graze land is given by the Secretary of Agriculture, through the state and county ASC committees, after certification by the governor of the state as of the need for grazing. This permission is given to ease hardships caused by severe drought, flood, or other natural disaster.

If any part of the Conservation Reserve is grazed as a result of such authorization, Staples explained, no annual payment will be made for that part of the Reserve for the year in which it is grazed.

Serves As Chaplain Of Girls' Dormitory

Miss Elizabeth Titsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Titsworth, Green Ridge, has been serving as chaplain of her dormitory, Gertrude Sellards Pearson hall. This hall houses over 400 girls. Being chaplain involves planning and helping with religious activities and special services such as the Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter services.

Miss Titsworth is a graduate student at Kansas University and is finishing her master of science degree in education and business.

"Life Means More With Music"

What Is National Music Week?

National Music Week is a city, county, state, and nation-wide celebration in honor of music. A whole-hearted joyous participation, through performance or listening in the most democratic of the arts. An attempt to make every individual more music conscious, to regognize the value of music education, and to increase interest in the works of the American and other great composers.

Why National Music Week?

Because people like it. Because it serves as a reminder that we must have music if we are to live in tune with the times. Because a week of music brings joy to all who participate.

HELEN G. STEELE MUSIC CLUB SPONSORS MUSIC WEEK IN SEDALIA

Because of the deep and increasing interest in music in Sedalia, the Helen G. Steele Music Club has been fortunate in securing the pledge of scores of individuals who have agreed to participate in programs for local organizations during Music Week, May 5 through May 12. Clubs or organizations wishing a musical program for this observance may avail themselves of any number of local musicians who have volunteered their services and will be glad to take part in any program during this week. Those desiring information on available talent may contact the Music Week Chairman, Mrs. William C. Hopkins, Phone 301.

SAC's Civilian Payroll to Drop 1,225 By June 1

SAC's authorized civilian payroll will be reduced 1,225 spaces by June 1, command manpower officials said this week. The SAC cut is part of an air force-wide economy goal reduction in civilian personnel.

Mr. Emil M. Osorio, Civilian Personnel Officer at Whiteman, said that about 35 civilian employees will be affected by this program and most of this reduction will come from the Installations and Field Maintenance Squadrons. Factors behind these cuts are, a reduction in the civilian ceiling of the air force, programmed unit transfers and redistribution of workloads within the commands.

He further stated that future reductions in the civilicar category are anticipated in the 1958 fiscal year, since the current reduction does not meet the ultimate goal. The program will be phased to take advantage of attrition and reduce hardship to the employee as much as possible. Where attrition does not suffice, forced reduction will have to be made.

Hiring of civilian personnel during this period shall be carefully controlled to keep within the established ceiling and to fill vacancies in the critical skill areas.

Police Have Nabbed 'Pants Bandit' Pair

KANSAS CITY, May 4 (AP)—Two ex-convicts, identified by police as the "Pants Bandits", were captured today in Kansas City, Kan.

They achieved their nickname through their method of forcing holdup victims to remove their trousers to prevent pursuit. They specialized in filling station holdups. Lt. Larry Nesbit of the Kansas City, Mo., police department reported.

He identified them as Ralph A. Curea, 39, and Howard L. Uhrig, 31, both of Dayton, Ohio. Both, the officers said, had served sentences in the Ohio state penitentiary.

Capt. Eli Dahlin of the Kansas City, Kan., police department, said both had admitted holdups in New Orleans, Los Angeles, Phoenix, Ariz., and in both Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kan.

No charges have been filed against the two. Two women arrested with them were being questioned by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Detectives said the pair had traced out a route across the Southern United States, pointing out places where they had committed holdups.

"As we questioned them they kept admitting more and more," Gaylord Brown, a detective, said. "They finally admitted holdups in Lexington, Ky., Atlanta and San Antonio, Tex."

The total loot take by the pair here has not been totaled, police said.

Accidents

A car-truck accident Saturday afternoon on U. S. Highway 65, north of the Cole Camp junction, resulted in considerable damage to the automobile but occupants escaped injury. The accident occurred at 3:15 p.m.

Joseph Richard Garrison, 26, Kansas City, was driving south in his 1954 Ford coach following a 1955 Chevrolet two-ton lime spreading truck driven by Harold Eugene Hess, 26, of Cole Camp. The accident occurred when Garrison started to pull out to pass and at the same time Hess pulled out to pass a car ahead.

According to Trooper Robert Stockdell, Hess reported he heard screeching tires and slowed down, and in doing so the car driven by Garrison struck the rear end of the truck.

The front end of the Ford car was smashed in but no damage resulted to the truck.

Garrison was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Leona Estes, and they were enroute to Warsaw to visit relatives.

The Ford was towed to the Hamlin Service Station by a Hamlin wrecker.

Slight damage resulted but no one received injuries when a 1956 Ford, driven by Glen Young, Otterville, and a 1956 Chevrolet express truck, driven by Maurice W. Balley, 1007 East Third, collided at 100 West Pacific at 6:05 p.m. Friday.

The left rear fender on the Ford was dented while no damage was reported on the Chevrolet.

Sedalia police investigated the accident.

Police Reports

A door at the Central Coal Co., Broadway and Ingram, was found open by the police at 12:14 a.m. Saturday. It was locked by the police and the owner notified.

---

Police found the keys to the Conoco Service Station, Sixth and Osage, were found left in the door at 11:30 p.m. Friday. The door was locked by the officer and the keys were taken to police headquarters.

---

A door at 108 East Fifth, found unlocked at 11:25 p.m. Friday by the police, was locked by the officer and a note left.

---

Ray Hatfield, Mexico, Mo., reported the theft of his 1954 Plymouth sedan from the 300 block on South Massachusetts between 9 and 10:30 p.m. Friday. The car was found at 10:45 p.m. parked in front of the Missouri Bowl.

---

Mrs. Adella Blatterman, 1715 South Ohio, reported to the police she lost her brown leather purse sometime between 3 and 4 o'clock Friday afternoon in the 200 block on South Lamine. Her driver's license and other identification cards were in the purse, along with some change.

---

Margie Herndon, 213 West Sixth, reported the loss of her biege purse containing a brown billfold containing a small amount of money and important papers. The purse was believed lost in front of her home.

Morse Asks Quick Curb On Nuclear Test Shots

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP) — Sen. Morse (D-Ore) called on the Eisenhower administration today to halt nuclear explosions immediately and challenge Russia "to do the same."

"Such an announcement" he said, would "give new impetus to disarmament" negotiations and "could well mean the tests would be stopped, entirely by everyone."

It would, Morse continued, "put the Soviet Union in the position of having to decide whether to continue the tests alone, in the face of world-wide religious and scientific objections and in the face of world-wide public opinion."

Morse, a member of the senate foreign relations committee, made his proposal in a broadcast prepared for release over 20 Pacific Northwest radio stations.

ELKS AWARD TO SEDALIA GIRL—Miss Linda Wiesing, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wiesing, 1616 West 11th, receives a $25 Savings Bond from Robert Johnson, right, Exalted Ruler of Sedalia BPO Elks No. 125 for winning the Sedalia contest in Youth Leadership, sponsored by the Elks. Miss Wiesing later learned she had also won the state contest. (Greenwalt photo)

Student at Sacred Heart

Linda Wiesing Is State Winner Of Elks' Leadership Contest

Linda Kay Wiesing, daughter of J. F. Wiesing, 1616 West 11th, has been named the state winner in the girls' division of the Youth Leadership Contest sponsored by the Missouri State Elks Association. Linda was also winner of the local contest sponsored by the Sedalia BPOE Chapter No. 125.

In ceremonies held here Wednesday evening Linda was presented the award for outstanding leadership by the Exalted Ruler of the Elks, Robert Johnson. Also present at the ceremonies were the Rev. Father A. J. Brunswick, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church and superintendent of the school; the Rev. Father Gerald Pelletier, director of activities at Sacred Heart School.

The contest is held annually and is designed to recognize outstanding leadership. It is not a scholarship contest. The four basic requirements on which the contest is judged are leadership, Americanism and citizenship appreciation, stability and resourcefulness, and sense of honor.

Linda is a junior at Sacred Heart and is president of the class and has held number of other offices during past years. She has been a cheerleader for two years and is head cheerleader for the varsity squad this year. Active in sports, she has lettered in volleyball and softball and has received two bars and a captain's star. She has been captain of the girls' softball team for two years. Other sports that she likes are tennis, swimming, and horseback riding.

From the scholarship standpoint, Linda ranks high in her class with a 90 per cent average and received honorable mention for a scholarship letter.

Some of her other interests are music and dramatics. She studied piano for six years and sings in the Sacred Heart Glee Club and church choir. She belongs to the Sacred Heart girls' trio which sings for various organizations and programs.

When asked about her plans for the future she said that she plans to attend college and study modeling during summer in St. Louis. She wants to make a trip to Europe and also visit Acapulco, Mexico.

Economy Is Major Issue

Sen. Johnson Launches Harsh Attack on President's Budget

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) has launched a sharpshooting attack on President Eisenhower's budget that promises to make governmental economy a major issue in next year's election campaign for control of Congress.

Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, is frankly out to slice Eisenhower's money requests on a selective basis. If the cuts he helps engineer fall heaviest on executive departments—and not on such widely popular items as flood control dams and power projects—none of his colleagues will be greatly surprised.

Unlike his opposite number, Republican Leader Knowland of California, Johnson is making no preditcions on how much Congress will be able to cut in Eisenhower's proposed $71,800,000,000 spending program.

Knowland has called for a three billion dollar slice in actual spending. To reach such a goal, Congress would have to cut about five billion dollars off the more than 73 billion dollars in new money Eisenhower seeks.

Some of these appropriations are proposed for the future and won't actually be spent in the fiscal year beginning July 1. Eisenhower has a backlog of spending authority granted by previous Congresses and the current session's control of actual spending thus is limited.

The indications are that Johnson has in mind no such definite figure as that picked by Knowland. It is not part of the Democratic leadership's strategy to enforce economy at the expense of housing, health services, farm benefits and power projects.

These are issues which the Democrats generally agree helped them keep control of both Houses of Congress last year while Eisenhower was sweeping to a landslide victory

Three Escape Serious Hurts In Car Mishap

Accident Near La Monte Involves Six Airmen Friday

A 1955 Oldsmobile sedan was demolished and a 1952 Chrysler sedan damaged in a two-car collision early Friday on Highway 50 west of the LaMonte Junction. Air Force personnel in the two vehicles escaped with minor hurts. The accident occurred about 1:30 a.m.

The Oldsmobile was being driven west by T-Sgt. Ray E. McCollum, 23, of Whiteman AFB, followed by the Chrysler driven by A-1c Dorsey McVicker, 23, also of Whiteman, when the collision occurred.

Sgt. McCollum reported he came up on a slow moving car and began to slow down. Airman McVicker reported he was following McCollum and saw the car start to slow, and when he hit his brakes they didn't take hold immediately. The Chrysler struck the rear end of the Oldsmobile.

The Oldsmobile started to the right shoulder and then went into a side skid, hit a small ditch, went up the embankment and flipped over on its left side. The Chrysler was stopped some distance west of the point of impact on the left shoulder of the highway

Sgt. McCollum received a puncture wound on the left arm which took several stitches to close, but otherwise was not badly injured.

With McCollum were A-1c Harold D. Blodgett, 20, and A-1c Arvil C. Meisenhelter, 23, who were riding in the back seat and both suffered minor cuts and bruises. They were taken to the Whiteman AFB hospital in a base ambulance. A-3c James McNair, who was also in the front seat with McCollum, escaped injury.

McVicker escaped injury as did two riders with him. Their names were not obtained as they "hitched a ride on to the base before officers and Air Police arrived on the scene. McVickers was unable to produce the names.

The Oldsmobile was towed to Sedalia by Chamberlins wrecker while the Chrysler was towed to Sedalia by the Parks wrecker.

ODDS AGAINST YOU—The chances are three out of four that you would sustain injuries or be killed in an injury-producing crash such as the staged accident pictured above. According to the Cornell Automotive Crash Injury Research center in New York City, 20 per cent of injuries occur after occupants are thrown out; 56 per cent are caused by striking objects inside car; and more than half of the cars in which injuries occur are going less than 40 miles an hour. In the photo series the passenger's door was removed on the white car to give a clear view of the reaction of a dummy (arrow). The white car was traveling 37 m.p.h.

Attends Frozen Food Locker Convention

C. M. Marshall of the Hughesville Locker Plant of Hughesville attended the 17th annual convention of the Missouri Frozen Food Locker Association in Columbia this week.

At the business meeting on April 29 Marshall was named as the new director for the Fourth District.

About 100 operators representing some 60 plants in this state gathered to learn the latest methods in processing and handling of products for their freezers and to see the new equipment offered for their use by 16 exhibiting supply firms.

Outstanding speaker on the Tuesday program was Albert Todoroff, editor of Freezer Provisioning Magazine, who talked on "Expanding Your Business with Present Facilities."

The convention adjourned after the Tuesday evening banquet.

Cadillac

Third Generation at the Wheel!

"Like father, like son", the poets say.

And never was it truer than in the case of a great many fine Cadillac families.

For there are, in our land today, a number of families that currently boast as many as three generations at the wheel.

We mention this simply to underscore a great and dramatic truth about Cadillac—that, of course, is its unchanging goodness and quality.

For fifty-five years, the Cadillac name has signified one and the same thing to motorists everywhere—a motor car created at the highest level that automotive science would permit.

Over that time, Cadillac has attracted to the ranks of its owners the finest list of names to be found anywhere on the American motoring scene.

And, those who have followed the path to Cadillac in 1957 are enjoying the most abundant blessings of this ceaseless crusade for quality.

The new "car of cars", with coachcraft by Fleetwood, is beautiful and luxurious to an unprecedented degree. And its performance and handling ease are a revelation!

Certainly, the Cadillac car has now become an even wiser investment for an even wider circle of America's motorists.

If you have yet to acquaint yourself with these brilliant Cadillac virtues for 1957, your dealer will be delighted to tell you how easily you can make Cadillac a fine family custom of your own!

Air Base Modernizes Dining Hall

Whiteman's 340th Food Service Squadron completed another step in the modernization of base dining halls Thursday morning when Col. Richard W. Kline, base commander, cut the ribbon to formally reopen Dining Hall No 1 at Whiteman Air Force Base, remodeled by Food Service Squadron personnel.

This is the second dining hall the Food Service Squadron members have voluntarily renovated in the last six months. Volunteer workers from the squadron remodeled the NCO Dining Hall No. 3 from December to February and it is expected remodeling of the last of the three dining halls on the base will start in the near future.

The remodeling of Dining Hall 2, started March 1, follows similar lines used in the NCO Dining Hall. An egg-crate type ceiling has been constructed, fluorescent lighting installed and a redwood wainscoting placed around the walls.

Redecoration has been accomplished on a western theme using rope in branding iron designs fastened to the wall above the serving line and serapes suspended in the top half of the dividing partitions which separate the serving line from the dining area. The lower portion of the dividing partitions is made of concrete blocks sprayed with plex-stone paint.

Redwood partitions have been placed at either side of the main entrance which are topped by two big wagon wheels, paid for by contributions of Food Service Squadron members. Redwood has also been employed in boxing in the lower half of the supporting posts which have rope spiraling around the upper half.

Still carrying out the western theme, the walls, painted desert-grey, have colorful Mexican sombreros hung on them as well as large painted pictures of western country scenes. Two doors have been eliminated and four shadow boxes put in the walls.

To top off the redecoration bamboo stick drapes have been hung at the windows and plex-stone paint sprayed on the doors.

In addition to the remodeling, much needed floor space has been provided in the dining area by relocating the coffee urns, ice cube machine, water cooler and milk dispenser at the end of the serving line against the wall.

Capt. Wallace D. Counselman, Food Service Squadron commander, singled out A-2c Thomas A. Hall and S-Sgts. Russell M. Gillis and Albert J. Murphy for special credit for their work on the project. Capt. Counselman himself, who is leaving the base for duty in England next week, has worked many hours overtime on the remodeling of both dining halls.

T-Sgt. John W. Mullikin is now NCOIC of the remodeled dining hall.

Group Talks About Foster Child Care

Foster care for children and its administration in Sedalia and surrounding communities was the subject of discussion at the regular meeting of the advisory committee to the Pettis County Child Welfare unit last Monday. The need of good temporary foster care for children of all ages was emphasized by Mrs. Ena Killingsworth, child welfare worker, who led the discussion. Foster care, she pointed out, is distinguished from adoptive care in that it usually means care for children for a period of time from two months to one year. Thus, foster parents are faced with the difficult feat of giving the love and guidance that they would give to their own children, yet not become so dependent upon the children's affection that they can not release them for more permanent planning as adoption or return to their own home. These children may represent babies being prepared for adoptive placement, children with special problems that can not be met in their own homes, and children removed from the natural parents by order of the Juvenile Court because of neglect.

Mrs. Killingsworth cited examples of children that had been in foster care and commended the excellent care that had been given to children ranging in age from infancy to 16 years. During the ensuing discussion period, the committee had many questions on recruitment of foster homes and the daily problems involved in working with these children.

The Rev. Edward Sims, who has served as chairman of the committee for the past year, was re-elected as chairman. Additional officers elected were: Mrs. Olen Monsees, vice-chairman, and Mrs. E. M. Stafford, Jr., secretary. Other members of the advisory committee are Judge Dimmitt Hoffman, Mrs. Cline Cain, Mrs. Frank Coffman, Edward Heffernan, Mrs. John E. Lamy, Pinkney Miller, Mrs. Abe Rosenthal, L. R. Black, C. H. Gooch and Jack Delph. Miss Roseanne Dugan, director of the Welfare Office, and Thomas Walsh, district Child Welfare supervisor, are ex-officio members.

Two Sedalia Youths Complete Fraternity Pledge Requirements

Larry Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gib Owen, 807 North Grand, and James Self, 414 West Fourth, recently completed their pledge training in Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity located on the campus of Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg.

Jim and Larry began pledging together during January and were formally initiated as active members of Teke on April 14, in a Sunday afternoon ceremony. Larry was the president of their pledge class of 31 members.

Owen directed the 65-member male chorus of Tau Kappa Epsilon in CMSC's annual All-Greek Song Fete on May 1.

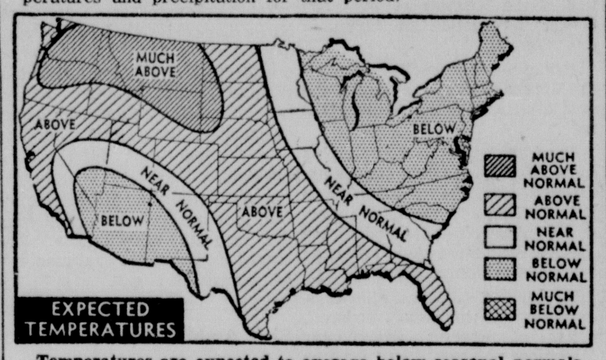

Both young men graduated from Smith-Cotton High School with the class of 1955 and are now third-term sophomores at CMSC. They are roommates, living in George L. Osborne Hall.

Other active members of Teke coming from Sedalia and surrounding area are: Ken Buhlig, Gary Johnson, Ron Malone, Willard Reine, James Waller and Don Schlup, California

Pre-Summer Outlook

The weather maps below give the U.S. Weather Bureau's long-range forecast from now until June. It is not a specific forecast in the usual sense, but an ESTIMATE of the average temperatures and precipitation for that period.

Temperatures are expected to average below seasonal normals over the eastern third of the nation until early June, with the exception of the states bordering on the Gulf of Mexico, where above-normal temperatures are predicted. Over the western half of the country above-normal averages are predicted, except for below normal in the far Southwest.

From now until June, rainfall is expected to be subnormal over much of the country, but above-normal amounts are indicated in the Northwest and far Southwest. Rains in central and eastern Texas, which have been abnormally heavy, are predicted to taper off to near or subnormal.

Lake District Scouts Hold Annual Camporee

The Lake District Boy Scouts will hold their annual camporee on Saturday and Sunday at the City Park in Versailles according to an announcement by John Pohl, Lake District camping and activities chairman. Five counties will take part in the activities that will start Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. The counties are Miller, Benton, Morgan, Moniteau and Camden.

Mrs. Rhoads Reviews Book at Club Meet

Mrs. Charles Bybee entertained the Bothwell Homemakers Extension Club May 1. Mrs. A. C. Henderson Jr. was co-hostess.

Mrs. Bybee conducted the meeting and Mrs. R. F. Sprinkles read the devotional. Mrs. Henderson spoke on safety. Mrs. Rival Rhoads gave an interesting book review. A donation was given to the cancer fund.

Mrs. O. E. Richards led in playing a game.

Twenty-one members and the following guests, Mrs. Ed Harms, Mrs. Julia Gower, Miss Lola Hood, Miss Martha Hood and Miss Ruth Ann Wise, were present.

Mrs. Harry Runge will entertain the club June 11.

Participates In Training Maneuver

Army Specialist Third Class Richard L. Sprinkles, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Sprinkles, Route 4, Sedalia, recently participated in a five-day field training maneuver with the 10th Infantry Division's 85th Regiment in Germany.

Specialist Sprinkles, a computer in the regiment's Company M, entered the Army in May 1955 and received basic training at Ft. Riley, Kan. He arrived in Europe in November 1955.

Sprinkles was graduated from Smith-Cotton High School in 1954.

S. P. Johns, Jr., on Visit

Former Sedalian Finds Many Changes Here in Recent Years

By W. D Agee

Sedalia since the middle of April has had as a visitor a member of one of Sedalia's pioneer families, S. P. Johns Jr., Seattle, Wash., who has been guest of his nephew, R. M. Johns Jr., and niece, Mrs. Charles E. Messerly, and families and enjoying to the fullest meeting old time friends and acquaintances, that is those that are left from the time he grew to young manhood here.

Mr. Johns, 88 years old, is stalwart and, despite his years that carried him through an unusually active career, is erect, walks with a springlike stride and seems to be in excellent health.

He was most favorably impressed with the advancement in Sedalia in late years, especially in its expansion and building of elegant and costly homes. Years ago he stated, a $10,000 home was a rarity, but now with prospects good and people generally prosperous, he stated it was not uncommon to have homes costing $75,000 or more and comparing most favorably with those in larger cities such as St. Louis, Kansas City and Seattle, where in the latter place he is spending his retirement in taking it easy.

He retired ten years ago after being for many years with the Weyerheuser Timber Co., the largest of its kind in the great northwest. He had also been connected with other businesses allied with the lumber industry.

Mr. Johns was a son of the late S P. Johns, founder of the S. P. Johns Lumber Co., in Sedalia in 1884 and was a brother of the late R. M. Johns and W. M. Johns, the latter a former postmaster.

In reminiscing among friends, he recalled several of the old time businesses and places in Sedalia, especially the old Sicher Park, now Liberty Park, and the Sicher Hotel which in days gone by was one of the leading hostelries in Central Missouri and is now Hotel Royal.

Mr. Johns was married 66 years ago this summer to a daughter of the late Judge W. S. Shirk, a prominent early day attorney in Sedalia. Mrs. Johns died two years ago. The wedding was in the old Central Presbyterian Church, which building is now the Masonic Temple.

Mr. Johns is a veteran of the Spanish-American war, from which there are but a scattering few now living in this area. Among them he mentioned Otto Holts, East 13th, Sedalia, and Henry Musselman, Cole Camp. Mr. Johns had been a member of the Missouri National Guard and, when war came into a reality, members of the Sedalia contingent volunteered, there being no draft imposed at that time.

He related several instances of life at Chickamauga, Ga., where troops were in camp. While there, he said, a typhoid fever epidemic swept through, taking a heavy toll of lives. The late Dr. S. K. Crawford was regimental surgeon. George H. Trader was with the hospital corps and health officials were kept busy and on the alert in giving every possible attention to the afflicted.

Mr. Johns, by virtue of his training with the National Guard, entered service as a lieutenant and in telling of the early days of the Guard said it met in the old Smith Opera House on Main Street. Uniforms were furnished but occasional collections were taken from among members to help pay for incidental expenses. In service he was with the quartermaster corps.

Returning to Chickamauga he asserted while on duty there many of the men expressed a keen desire to get into the combat but were held at the camp although orders came through three different times for preparation to move to Cuba, they later being rescinded much to the dismay of some and pleasing to others.

Mr. Johns secured railroad reservations for return to his home after a brief visit in Kansas City with relatives, and hopes to have opportunity to again visit Sedalia in a year from now.

WAFB Officer Leaves For Guam Assignment

Lt. Kenneth W. Harper, base OJT officer, has left the base for an overseas assignment to the Third Air Division in Guam.

Lt. Harper came to Whiteman in December, 1954, and established the present on-the-job training section at Whiteman in accordance with a then new SAC directive requiring each base to have a separate OJT section. He was the first OJT officer here.

Before coming to Whiteman, Lt. Harper was stationed at Hickam AFB, Hawaii, where he held numerous positions in base personnel and was adjutant of the motor vehicle squadron.

He and his wife and two sons are now living in Knob Noster. They will visit his parents in Texas and his wife's parents in Kentucky before he reports to Travis AFB, California, for overseas shipment June 9.

Mrs. Harper and the children will remain in Kentucky until Lt. Harper secures housing for them at his new station.

WAFB Officer Will Go to England Again

Another trip to England is in the offing for Capt. Wallace D. Counselman, Food Services Squadron commander, and his family now residing at Knob Noster.

Capt. Counselman, his wife, Yvonne, son, Wallace, Jr., and daughter Ann will leave Whiteman May 7 to spend a 30-day leave at Mobile, Ala. before reporting to Ft. Hamilton, N. Y., for concurrent travel to England.

He arrived at Whiteman from England in November, 1954, and was assigned as Club Officer at the Officers Club until October, 1956, when he was assigned as Food Service Squadron commander.

He was instrumental in the redecoration of the Officers Club and dining halls One and Three.

Has Baseball Reading Club For Young People in Summer

The cry "Play Ball" will be heard this summer at Boonslick Regional Library as the vacation reading club gets underway.

Boys and girls in Cooper and Pettis Counties are invited to become members of the Baseball Reading Club. Information on the club and how it works may be obtained from the libraries at Boonville and Sedalia or from the bookmobile.

Summer reading clubs of whatever type are a means for wholesome recreation for young people of all ages. This is the period when children can read for fun only, can explore new fields of interest and pursue their hobbies with leisure. Additionally, for children who were first and second graders this school year, reading during the summer months is most important. At this stage in reading skill practice is necessary for word retention; and primary teachers urge children to do vacation reading in order to avoid "word loss". Parents who wish to cooperate with the school will make books available during the summertime for their small fry.

Not only the very young reader but all ages will profit by having a few books handy during vacation. The adolescent and the young adult need the opportunity to discover the wealth of material on hobbies, on other people's lives and problems, and on subjects of teenage interest. Each year many books are published for the adult reader that young adults will also enjoy. Here are a few samples of adult books that the library recommends for young people: "The World of Albert Schweitzer" by Erica Anderson; Rachel Carson's "Edge of the Sea"; Dana Faralla's "Circle of Trees"; C. S. Forester's "The Good Shepherd"; Helen Martini's "My Zoo Family"; and Helen MacInnes' "Pray for a Brave Heart."

This week's bookmobile schedule,

Tuesday, May 7 — Lamine, 9:00-9:45; Blackwater, 10:00 - 2:00; Blackwater Col. School, 2:00-2:30; Blackwater Drug Store, 2:30-3:10; Cotton Patch, 3:25-3:40.

Wednesday, May 8 — Hughesville School, 9:00-3:30; Hughesville Downtown, 3:30-4:00.

Thursday, May 9 — Smithton School, 9:00-3:30; Smithton Downtown, 3:30-4:00.

Friday, May 10 — Brown, 8:45-9:30; LaMonte School, 9:45-3:30.

Monday, May 13 — Hope Dale, 9:00-9:30; Elm Branch, 9:45-11:00; Maple Grove, 11:15-11:45; Kindle's Store, 12:45 - 1:05; Manila Store, 110-1:30; Steljas Filling Station, 1:30-2:00.

Lid Lifter Next Sunday at Mexico

Sedalia A's in Final Week Of Drills for Loop Opener

The Sedalia Athletics swing into their final week of pre-season preparation with drills this afternoon at Liberty Park. Next Sunday afternoon the A's are slated to journey to Mexico to open the 1957 Missouri Valley League baseball season with a double header against Mexico.

This marks the first season in many years that the Sedalia independent team has been represented in such a league as the Missouri Valley loop of the American Baseball Congress. Other members of the strong five-team league are Mexico, Moberly, Columbia and Jefferson City. A 24-game schedule for the season has been drafted. The league season is divided into two halves.

Athletic manager "Salty" Schumaker has been working his charges for the past two weeks, but adverse weather conditions have limited overall progress. This means the next six days will demand extra effort from all hands as the club intensifies the training process in an effort to be ready for the opener.

Among those who have reported for practice thus far are Bill Bishop, Dave Johnson, C. A. Smith, Sonny Thomas and Bob Brown, all pitchers: Bill Morgan, Ralph Fall, Sam Wiggins, Russ Gilmore, and Bob Lane, infielders; and Jim Fall and Bill Dey, outfielders. The absence of several other players who have been standouts in previous seasons has been sorely noted. Any player in the area desiring to play this season are urged to be in attendance for today's practice.

The following schedule for the Sedalia Athletics in the Missouri Valley Baseball League of the American Baseball Congress has been announced:

May 12—Sedalia at Mexico (2).
May 15—Sedalia at Columbia*
May 17—Jeff City at Sedalia*.
May 19—Sedalia at Moberly.
~~May 26—Moberly at Sedalia.~~
May 28—Sedalia at Jeff City*.
June 2—Columbia at Sedalia.
June 9—Mexico at Sedalia (2).
June 13—Sedalia at Moberly*.
June 16—Sedalia at Columbia.
June 18—Jeff City at Sedalia*.
June 26—Columbia at Sedalia*.
June 30—Sedalia at Mexico (2).
July 3—Sedalia at Moberly*.
July 9—Columbia at Sedalia*.
July 11—Sedalia at Jeff City*.
July 14—Jeff City at Sedalia.
July 21—Moberly at Sedalia.
July 30—Moberly at Sedalia.
Aug. 1—Sedalia at Jeff City.
Aug. 7—Sedalia at Columbia.

Important Meet Called By Babe Ruth League

An important meeting is to be held for Babe Ruth League in the conference room of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday, May 8. The meeting will begin at 7:15 p.m. Anyone interested in Babe Ruth program is invited to attend the meeting.

All sponsors, managers, and directors of the league are particularly urged to be present so the final plans may be completed for the coming season.

GIANT SWINGER — Ronnie Etchison is called the "man with the giant swing." He has made his famous swing one of the best submission maneuvers in pro wrestling. Ronnie returns to Sedalia Armory action Tuesday, competing in the six-man tag team re-match.

Six-Man Tag Re-Match Set Here Tuesday

TUESDAY'S WRESTLING CARD

In Sedalia Armory—8:15

MAIN EVENT

(Six-Man Tag Match)

Mighty Atlas, Joe Dusek and Rip Hawk vs. Ronnie Etchison, Thor Hagen and Gentleman Jim Dobie. Best two out of three falls, or a 60-minute time limit.

SEMI-WINDUP

OPENING EVENT

Rip Hawk, 224, Toledo, Ohio, vs. Jim Dobie, 226, Independence, Mo. One fall, or a 30-minute time limit.

Matches sponsored by Pettis American Legion Post.

History is in the making Tuesday night in Sedalia's Armory wrestling ring.

For the first time on record for the local mat sport, a re-match in the six-man tag team wrestling field will be presented here.

Joe Dusek, captain of one of the three-man teams, demanded a re-match with Thor Hagen's combination following tht April 21 battle here which wound up in a heated dispute. Dusek claimed "foul play" during the third fall.

Dusek will return with his team intact. He has Mighty Atlas and Rip Hawk as his partners.

Hagen, still enraged over the hassle with Atlas in an individual match in Kansas City, quickly accepted the Dusek team's challenge. However, Hagen has made a shift in his team line-up. He is bringing Ronnie Etchison in place of Larry Hamilton. Gentleman Jim Dobie will again be the third member of the popular tag trio.

Etchison is back home from a long stay in California where he annexed the Pacific Coast championship about 18 months ago. Ronnie has also increased his international mat prestige with the announcement in the May issue of Ring Magazine that Ronnie is No. 3 in the nations top ten heavyweight ratings. This is the highest honor ever accorded to a Western Missouri wrestler.

It will be Etchison's first Sedalia appearance in nearly two years at the Armory.

Matchmaker Gust Karras introduced six-man team wrestling on the April 21 card here and the match was widely acclaimed as "a top attraction." Karras said that many fans asked for another six-man matching.

Two individual square-offs will precede the six-man tag re-matching. In the semi-windup, Etchison will match his spectacular giant swing against Atlas' nelsons, while the opener pits popular Gentleman Jim against the Hawk.

The matches Tuesday night will start at 8:15 with the Armory doors opening at 7:15. Tickets are now on advance sale at the Pacific Cafe and the Midway Shoe Repair Shop.

Sports Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

PROBLEMS arise again. Again like every spring when independent baseball teams try to organize and carry the banner of Sedalia over Central Missouri and give Sedalia a baseball team. Yes sir, those problems are money and for some reason, money plays an important part in forming a team—good or bad.

This year the independent team has just about everything except the necessary funds to get a good start, and a few players could be used for the roster also. The players who are anxious to get a team going are all well-known to baseball fans here, all are good fellows and all like to play ball, but they actually are not in a position as individuals to "foot the bill" but they can furnish the manpower.

They are endeavoring to finance the team by the usual method of selling advertising on score cards and as one reported Saturday — "it sure is going slow." True some feel it is a "lug," but actually it isn't, it helps to get a team on the field and everytime the team plays it is advertising for Sedalia as a whole, and the cards are used and seen.

It's a good deal this year because the team has more games scheduled this year than in the past several seasons. It is in a good league and the competition is keen. More fans should be expected to follow the team due to the fact it is in real competition and has something to play for—a championship, the first such competition in more than 10 years.

Manager Salty Shoemaker is in need of a few more players. Some of those "old timers" could be a lot of help if they would come out and be of assistance to the team, such fellows as Joe Imhauser, Ralph Walker, Bob Dillard and a number of others.

They are sure of plenty of playing this season by virtue of the league schedule not to mention several independent games on "off league" dates. The organization is good and I believe all the fellows would really enjoy it this season, knowing when and where they will be playing instead of waiting until the last day before some team could be scheduled for a game.

FISHERMEN of the area who have been traveling up to Johnson and Jackson counties to "fee lakes" will soon have a chance to cut short their traveling when Merle Templeton, who has a farm south of LaMonte on Highway 127 opens up his lake. Templeton got the idea last fall when he started to build a levy on his farm to detour Muddy Creek from cutting his farm up and instead ended up building three lakes.

In recent years "fee lakes" have become popular in various parts of the country. They afford a Fisherman who doesn't want to travel to the big lakes or go on a long trip to a fishing hole an opportunity to get in his fishing nearby and really catch eatable size fish.

The new lake will be an attractive arrangement according to Templeton as soon as grass gets a good start, picnic tables are built and other accomodations are complete. The fee lake is approximately one-quarter mile long, and about 300 feet wide and will be stocked with bass, channel cat and walleye, and some Minnesota carp.

He has put considerable money in his investment upon which returns are not too glamorous, but steady. Templeton in talking with me said he had encouragement from many and met only one man, a fisherman and businessman who didn't like the idea of having to pay a fee to catch fish.

Templeton's reply was "I can't afford to build a lake, buy a permit, buy the fish to stock it, construct picnic tables and picnic ovens etc., anymore than you could let people shop in your store for nothing." A very appropriate answer I might add.

Anyway it's something new that's been added to Pettis County in keeping with the time of "lazy fishermen".

Built on Templeton Farm

'Fee Fishing' Offered At Lake Near LaMonte

Something new in fishing for Pettis County and especially to Central Missouri has been added. It is known as a "fee fishing lake" similar to several in Jackson and Johnson counties. The new lake is located on the Merle Templeton farm, two miles south of LaMonte on Highway 127.

It was last September, Templeton, a farmer, decided to build a levy to keep Muddy Creek from cutting across his field. A bulldozer operator was contacted, work was well underway when he changed his plans completely. Templeton remarked "It took so much dirt to build the levy I just decided to build a lake."

Some of the fishermen around LaMonte remarking about how it would make a fine lake told him of the fee fishing lakes in Johnson and Jackson counties. He decided to investigate, contacted Conservation Agent Chester Vermass and was told to apply for a permit to operate a Fee Fishing Lake. At that time Vermaas also informed it would be the first such lake in Pettis County.

The next project was to contact someone to see about getting fish, Templeton made several contacts with firms and was told he could get Minnesota Carp, channel cat, walleye, and bass delivered this spring, of catching size. On his information that the supply of bass and channel cat are so uncertain, he decided to build two other lakes to be used as rearing lakes.

He intends ordering four-inch channel cat and bass, hold them one year in the rearing lakes, then transfer them to his fishing lake.

The lakes have been built and plans made to opening the fee lake in the next two or three weeks. The banks have been well seeded with grass and are progressing satisfactorily. After completion of the lakes last winter there was little moisture and he was just about ready to give the whole project up when it was suggested to pump water from Muddy Creek into the lakes. With the pumping already started and the recent rains he has just about enough water to get into business.

Now the next problem was a name for the place. Templeton who breeds registered Hampshire sheep and raises hereford cattle decided to call his place the "Twin Lakes Ranch."

Templeton reports considerable interest has been shown by local fishermen who have heard of his project. Any number have offered help and advice, too, to get the place ready so they can get started catching some of those good Northern fish. He has said that as soon as the grass gets a little heavier so it will not be muddy, and there is a little more water in the lake and it clears, the lake will be ready.

The other day Templeton was discussing the project with a friend also a farmer, who said to him, "Say, Merle, I put my farm in the soil bank, but it looks like you have put yours in the pond bank." To this Templeton replied, "How right you are." But at least Merle will have a lake with fish in it and whether the fishermen can catch them or not remains to be seen.

K.U. Sophomore Hurls No-Hit, No-Run Game

Neal Gives Dodgers Win Edge

Circuit Blow Deals Defeat To Cards, 4-2

BROOKLYN, May 4 (AP) — Charlie Neal hit a two-run homer with one out in the ninth inning today, after Roy Campanella doubled, to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 4-2 edge over St. Louis. It was Neal's first homer at Ebbets Field.

Campanella opened the winning surge against bonus baby Lindy McDaniel with a line double off the left field wall to start the last of the ninth. After Don Drysdale came in to run for Campanela, Don Zimmer moved him with a sacrifice bunt.

Then Neal lashed his home run into the centerfield stands to break up the ball game.

Roger Craig was riding along with a 2-0 lead after five innings but the Cards got to him for a run in the sixth on Eddie Kasko's triple following a walk to Don Blasingame. McDaniel tied the score with his first major league home run in the seventh.

Brooklyn had scored on McDaniel in the first on Campanella's third homer of the season into the centerfield seats and again in the fifth on Junior Gilliam's double and Gino Gimoli's single.

Clem Labine who took over the pitching job after Craig was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh, earned his second victory by stopping the Cards in the last two innings.

Kasko, who replaced Al Dark at shortstop, singled to open the eighth and got as far as third. Hobie Landrith, catching instead of Hal Smith, got the other hit off Labine, a single with one out in the ninth.

Ban Johnson Holds Practice Today at 1:30

Sedalia's Ban Johnson team has called a practice session for Sunday afternoon at 1:30 at Liberty Park. It is urgent that everyone intending to play on the team this season be present at the practice.

The team is open to all players who are between the ages of 15 and 21, and who live within a 50-mile radius of Sedalia. Any who wish to try out for the Bee Jays but have not done so yet, may try out with the team in its practice on Sunday.

Industry Loop To Begin Ball Play May 20

Has Five Teams, Another Sought For Lid Lifter

The Sedalia Industrial League will get underway on Monday night, May 20. The League has completed final plans for the weekly schedule of games which will be played on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday with one game being played each night.

The game time each night will be 8 o'clock with forfeited games being called at 8:15 p.m.

Each team player roster calls for 15 men. Their entry fee must be paid into the league by May 20.

The rules now call for no player quitting one team to join another. However, if a player removes his name from the roster due to leaving the city or due to illness, his name may be replaced by another player.

The League at present has but five teams, but desires to enlist one more team to fill out a six-team bracket. Anyone desiring to sponsor a team, or any team which is organized or being organized and desires to get into the league can do so by contacting Cliff J. Barr on or before May 18.

Town and Country Team to Practice

The Town and Country girls' softball team will hold a practice session at 1:30 Sunday afternoon at Center Park.

Any girls interested in trying out for the team are invited to the session.

Moose Club Softball Team Practice Today

The Moose Club softball team will meet for practice Sunday afternoon at 3:30 at Center Park. Another practice session is scheduled for Monday evenight at 5:30 at the park.

Little LEAGUERS

All members of Sedalia Lions Club taem of last year are urged to report for practice Monday at 4:30 at Smith-Cotton.

Yale's varsity crew includes four oarsmen from the Olympic championship shell.

Iron Liege in Derby Win by Photo Finish

Gallant Man Gets Second

Hartack Rides Winning Colt Past Shoemaker

By John Chandler

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 4 (AP) — Iron Liege, a second-stringer in the Calumet Farm barn, won the $152,050 Kentucky Derby today in a fantastic finish that saw the rider on the second horse misjudge the finish and blow a possible opportunity to win.

The photo camera caught Iron Liege the winner by a scant nose over Gallant Man, in the tightest Derby finish in 24 years, after Gen. Duke—supposedly the No. 1 colt in the Calumet string of 3-year-olds—had been withdrawn earlier in the day because of a foot injury.

Round Table came in third.

Willie Shoemaker, who rode Gallant Man, an invader from Ireland, admitted some time later before inquiring stewards that he had misjudged the finish in the excitement, and had eased his colt near the finish. When he got back in stride, he was unable to catch Iron Liege, ridden superbly by Willie Hartack, the nation's leading rider for the last two seasons.

Caught at the airport where he was boarding a plane for California, Shoemaker said, "I got confused between the sixteenth pole and the finish line."

The laconic Shoemaker, who pulled the same boner last year with Swaps in the $100,000 California at Hollywood Park, didn't even mention his error in judgment to newsmen who interviewed him after the race. But the stewards wanted to know what happened, and called him on the carpet for the explanation.

Almost an hour after the race the stewards sent out word they were satisfied it was merely a human failure of judgment, and cleared the unhappy Shoemaker, who had been seeking his second Derby win in six starts. Movies showed, the stewards said, he had eased his mount about 70 yards from home.

This turned out to be one of the most exciting derbies of all time, and the chilled throng of some 100,000 was left limp with excitement. Iron Liege, in giving Calumet an unprecedented sixth Derby victory, just managed to hold off the final rush of Gallant Man in a tingling scramble for the final few yards.

Bold Ruler, the Wheathley Stable colt who had been established the public choice at 6-5 after Gen. Duke was withdrawn earlier today, challenged early in the race, then dropped back to finish a disappointing fourth as Round Table eased into the third money spot.

Not since 1933 when Don Meade aboard Broker Tip nosed out Head Play with Herb Fisher up in their famous slashing duel down the stretch has old Churchill Downs seen such a tight finish on the wire. In that race, both jockeys slashed with their whips and pulled at each other's saddle cloths

There were no such shennanigans today, and Hartack just used his fine riding ability to haul off the "roses" and a purse of $107,950 for the famed Calumet Farm of Mrs. Gene Markey, Lexington, Ky. It was the third richest purse in Derby history.

Ump Urges Spit Ball Returned to Majors

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)—Jocko Conlan, veteran National League umpire, today advocated return of the spit ball to the major leagues.

"I don't know why they ever threw the spit-ball out," said Conlan in a pre-game television interview with Frankie Frisch of Baseball's Hall of Fame. "I'm for bringing the spitter back to baseball where it belongs. I hope somebody on the rules committee is listening

"There are so many of them pitchers who have mastered the idea of wetting the fingers and going to the mouth. I don't know if they throw it and I don't know if they don't throw it. It would be a lot easier for the umpires if they brought it back.

"If they can master it it would help every ball club. It's a pitch they can get over the plate."

Deer Dope

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission is experimenting with drugged darts to calm down skittish deer before transferring them from one location to another.

The darts are shot from a specially designed air rifle. They are tipped with a sedative which makes the deer easy to handle while being moved to sparsely populated game regions for restocking purposes.

Wilt Denies Reports He Will Leave K. U.

By Skipper Patrick

LAWRENCE, Kan., May 4 (AP) — Will the fantastic Wilt Chamberlain continue his basketball career at the University of Kansas or turn professional for the Harlem Globetrotters for a fat salary of some $15,000?

The answer remained a closely guarded secret as the 7-foot Chamberlain, an All-America as a sophomore last season was "out of town" to everybody today after he had flatly denied last night reports that he was leaving Kansas.

Coach Dick Harp, as tight lipped as they come, wasn't of much help. He merely commented that "Wilt's statement will have to speak for itself."

The Kansas coach was referring to a statement Chamberlain reportedly made to Kansas alumni representatives that basketball "Is a job" and that he "might as well get paid for it." Wilt denied he had talked with anyone about leaving school, but added "nobody knows what may happen between now and September."

The reports from individuals close to the Kansas athletic department have it that Wilt, who led the Jayhawks to the NCAA finals this year, will join the Globetrotters in September for two seasons then play with the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Association.

The Warriors drafted Chamberlain following his graduation from Philadelphia Overbrook High School two years ago. Under NBA rules he can't joint to pro team until his college class is graduated two years hence. The Globtrotters have no such code.

Denials they had made overtures to Chamberlain came from Abe Sapperstein, owner of the Globetrotters, and owner Eddie Gottlieb of the Warriors, in London where the Trotters are on their annual European tour. Gottlieb is accompanying Sapperstein on the tour.

Harp said he doubted rumors that another of his stars, sophomore Ronnie Loneski of Calumet City, Ill., also would leave Kansas for another basketball location.

"I am certain that if Ronnie was considering changing schools I would be the first one he would tell," Harp said.

Loneski told the Lawrence Journal-World he had no plans to leave Kansas.

Tiger Golfers Down Mexico Here Friday

Seek Title Defense In Conference Meet At Columbia Monday

Smith-Cotton golfers closed out their dual meet schedule here Friday by handing Mexico a 9-3 shellacking on the Countryview course.

It was the Tigers' second win against five losses, concluding one of their worst dual schedules in many years.

Vic Van Dyne, averaging 77 in the seven meets, headed the locals again Friday when he carved a 38-37—75 for the 18-hole distance for medalist honors.

Three of the Sedalians made three-point sweeps in individual matches. Van Dyne downed Sonny Tinsley who closed with 48-50—98; Tommy Austin with 41-39-80 defeated Marlon Stansberry who finished in 47-56—103; and Mike Lee fired a 41-38—79 to turn back Bruce Edwards who made the trip in 52-45—97. Smith-Cotton's Loy Holman, with 46-47—93 for the distance, was beaten by John O'Brien of Mexico who registered a 42-40—82 to lead the visitors.

Smith-Cotton winds up its competition Monday at Columbia against four other teams for the Central Missouri Conference championship. The Tigers are the defending champions, having won the conference title the past two years. Shooting for Smith-Cotton's crown will be Columbia, Mexico, Kemper and Hannibal.

Scores 25 Points To Lead Fairfax To Class C Title

MARYVILLE, Mo., May 4 (AP)—Melvin Rogers, virtually a one-man track team, scored 25 points today in leading Fairfax to the Class C district high school track championship, Fairfax had 32 points

Liberty won the Class B title with 53 points.

Rogers won five first places—the pole vault, broad jump, high jump, 100 and 220-yard dashes. He set a meet record of 12 feet 6 inches in the vault.

A 6-1 senior, weighing about 180 pounds, Rogers previously paced Fairfax to the state indoor track championship, the Northwest Missouri Conference title and the Tri-State Conference title.

About 420 youths from 43 schools competed here today. This district winners qualified for the state meet.

Team scores included:

Class B—Liberty 53, Cameron 49, Savannah 39, Park Hill 23, Excelsior Springs 21½.

Class C—Fairfax 32, Plattsburg 25½. Rock Port and Lathrop each 19.

Braves Blanked By Pirates' Law

PITTSBURGH, May 4 (AP)—Vernon Law limited the Milwaukee Braves to two hits today as his Pittsburgh Pirate teammates worked rookie pitcher Juan Pizarro for a seventh inning score that gave the Pirates a 1-0 victory. It broke a 4-game losing streak for the Pirates.

Drobny Crushes Hoad For British Net Win

BOURNEMOUTH, England, May 4 (AP) — Veteran Jaroslav Droby of Egypt handed Australian ace Lew Hoad a straight set whipping today to win the British Hard Courts tennis championship. The score was 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

England's Shirley Bloomer won the women's title, defeating Pat Ward, also of England, 3-6, 6-2, 6-3. Miss Bloomer and Dalene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., won the women's doubles 3-6, 7-5, 6-1 over Miss Ward and Anne Shilcock.

Some Changes In Eligibility For Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 4 (AP)—The Augusta National Golf Club today announced some changes in its eligibility rules for the Masters golf tournament. But it left until later a final decision on the controversial "cutoff" provision.

The changes are aimed at reducing the bulky field in the Masters, a strict invitational affair and one of the richest and most highly coveted tournaments in the world. The 1957 entries totaled 102.

This year, for the first time, the field was trimmed to the 40 low scorers plus ties for the final two rounds. As it turned out, exactly 40 players qualified for the last 36 holes—and two of those who didn't make the grade were gallery favorites Ben Hogan and Cary Middlecoff.

The "cutoff" rule brought protests from players, gallerites and sports writers and Masters officials said they would consider revisions before next year.

Today's announcement was made by Bobby Jones, president of Augusta National, and Cliff Roberts, tournament chairman. It said if any further changes in Masters rules are decided upon—apparently referring to the "cutoff" provisions — they would be made public next winter.

One of the announced rules changes prevents a professional golfer from qualifying for the Masters on the basis of amateur titles he won before turning pro. The other reduces from 24 to 16 the number of invitations issued to low scorers in the U. S. Open.

Until now, all past winners of the U. S. or British Amateur tourneys have had lifetime eligibilty in the Masters. The new rule takes away that eligibility if the player later turns pro.

Ends Recruit Training

Samuel L. Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Shaw, Route 4, Sedalia, graduated from recruit training recently at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

The graduation exercises, marking the end of nine weeks of "boot camp", included a full dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries.

In nine weeks of instruction, the "raw recruit" is developed into a Navy Bluejacket, ready for duty with the fleet.

B.R. League Holds Spring Player 'Sale'

31 Players 'Sold'; Announce Rosters Of Teams for '57

The Babe Ruth League annual spring player auction was held the past week at a meeting conducted by Player Agent Ernie Mulberry and attended by the sponsors and team managers. Players were bought and sold by the managers for their 1957 rosters. Thirty one players were sold at auction by Mulberry.

In the auction there were 28 boys in the 13-year-old bracket; two in the 14-year-old bracket and one was a 15-year-old boy.

Some of the boys on the teams have not completed their requirements to play Babe Ruth baseball because they have not taken their physicial examination. Before any boy can be permitted to play he must first obtain a physical and obtain his certificate to be turned over to the player agent.

The examination is a necessary requirement before any boy can participate in either the practice sessions or regular league play.

The season Babe Ruth play will get underway about May 27, weather conditions permitting. The regular seasonal nights schedule calls for games to be played on Monday and Wednesday night.

Managers will be permitted to make trades or release players and auction others from the players' pool until 15-days after the season's play is started. The following is the roster of the teams as to the present date:

WESTERN AUTO: Jamie Anderson, Jerry Barr, David Dotson, Johnny Dunham, Mike Edwards, Spencer Frickie, Gary Garrison, Douglas Gilpin, Dickie Horner, Lanny Houk, Larry Lueck, Bill Wallace, Dee Van Winkle and David Wilhite.

McCOWN BROTHERS: John Buckholtz, Billy Bryan, Larry Chastain, Jimmie Carver, Danny Keltner Jack Kenney, Bobby Madorin, Lonnie Schott, Steve Schultz, Mike Stansbarry, Charles Wadleigh, Gary Wahrenbrock, Jimmy Watson, Frank Weyer and Bill Woolery.

MULLINS: David Beymer, Mike Bonner Leroy Cole, Larry Decker, Ernie Dow, Terry Gibbs, George Guglielmetti, Kenney Holman, Bill Kelley, James Muleahey, Jerry Palmer, Charles Powers, Larry Siegel, Richard Wertz, and Don Willoughby.

PHILLIPS 66: Richard Ashley Paul Bennett, Gary Bryan, Charles Case, J. R. Farris, Loy Holman, Burl Jones, John Matejia, Bill Meredith, Emory Morris, Gary Stout, J. R. Walker and Jim Weising.

ANDERSONS: Franklin Barnes, David Corson, Bobby Garrison, Mike Hanigan, Gary Holderman, Kim Iman, Dennis Lively, Timmy Morgan, Tommy Morgan, Clayton Morris Nicky Nichols, Charles Patterson, Cecil Ravenscraft, Wilton Ray, Mark Shelby and Buster Zey.

Modified Cars Race at Marshall This Afternoon

This afternoon at the Sportsman's Speedway, east of Marshall on U. S. Highway 240, will be seen modified stockcars running for the second time this season. Faster racing time is expected and more daring driving will be done by the pilots of these made-over automobiles.

Last week the cars were raced for the first time. Drivers were getting the "feel" of the track, they were more cautious, giving their cars their first real test, after the winter over-haul jobs.

Today these same cars, same drivers will be more sure of their cars, the "feel" of the track and really start going after winning positions to build up their points for the summer racing season.

Time trials will start at 2 p.m. with the racing events getting underway about 3 o'clock

Cornhuskers Edge K-State in Track

MANHATTAN, Kan., May 4 (AP) — Nebraska edged Kansas State 67-64 in a Big Seven dual track meet today. Two meet records were set and three others tied.

The Cornhuskers won six of the 15 events, the high jump, broad jump, discus, the 800 - yard run, 220 dash and two-mile run.

Charles Wollaston of Nebraska broad jumped 23 feet 6¾ inches, exceeding the old record of 23-5¾ set by Veryl Switzer of Kansas State in 1953

The other record was set in the mile run by Tom Rodda of Kansas State who negotiated the distance in 4 minutes 19 and eight-tenths seconds. The old standard of 4:22.8 was set by Harold Brooks of Nebraska in 1940.

Gene O'Connor of Kansas State, Big Seven champion in the hurdles, defeated Keith Gardner for the first time, tying the 8 - year - old record of 14½ seconds established by Earl Elliott of Kansas State in the 120 high hurdles.

NAIA to Move Central Office To K.C. June 1

KANSAS CITY, May 4 (AP) — The National Assn. Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) announced today it would abolish its office in Los Angeles and set up its central headquarters in Kansas City, effective July 1.

The announcement was made by Al. O. Duer, executive secretary, who has maintained the Los Angeles office since he took over the NAIA reins in 1949. At that time only basketball was included in the association's athletic program. It now embraces football, golf, tennis, track and field, cross country and swimming, besides basketball.

"It became increasingly apparent in recent years that our enlarged program called for one major office in order to assure efficiency of operation," Duer said.

"It was only natural that we select Kansas City for, in addition to its central location, it was here that the N.A.I.A. was born, in 1938."

Duer said the Kansas City office would include not only the administrative staff, but also the public relations department under Bill Rosentreter, and the statiistical bureau, headed by Clarence (Ike) Pearson.

Duer reported the NAIA now has 450 members, embracing colleges and universities in each of the 48 states, the District of Columbia, Hawaii and Alaska.

Art Wall Grabs Lead at Halfway In Colonial Golf

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 4 (AP)—Art Wall pulled from impending disaster with six straight pars and a great birdie today to take over the 36-hole lead in the Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

Shooting a 2-over-par 72 in the wind, cold and rain, the tall man from Pocono Manor, Pa., whose major fame has been 34 amazing holes-in-one, grabbed the lead at the halfway point with 140.

Wall broke out of a tie with Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif. They had started the round with 68's but Littler soared to a 74.

The laconic Pennsylvanian held a two-stroke lead over Littler, who fell into second place at 142, while tied for third were amateur Harvie Ward Jr. of San Francisco, Mike Souchak of Grossingers, N.Y., Dick Mayer of La Jolla, Calif., E. J. Harrison of St. Louis and Ed Furgol of St. Andrews, Ill., each with 143.

The final 36 holes will be played tomorrow.

4-H'ers Discuss Junior Flower Show

The Otterville 4-H Club met on Thursday at the High School and discussed the Junior Flower Show which will be May 18.

The Woodwork project boys and James Wear, supervisor, gave a demonstration.

The social hour was spent square dancing and playing games. Refreshments were served by Larry Castle, Pat Dunham, Don and Bob Bentzen.

4-H members participating in the Share the Fun Night at Bunceton were Sandra Glenn and Don Everett. Sandra won a blue ribbon and Don a red.

Others attending from Otterville were Mr. and Mrs. Danny Glenn, Mrs. Bertha Glenn, Mrs. Robert Holman, Bobbie Holman and Mrs. Ray Everett.

Del Greco Again Target For Inside-Park Homer

PHILADELPHIA, May 4 (AP) — Bobby Del Greco, Chicago Cubs center fielder could feel he's in a rut.

Harry Anderson of the Phillies slammed an inside-the-park home run over Del Greco's head last night, the first such inside-the-park belt for the Phillies since Curt Simmons did in 1952

Who was the center fielder in 1952? Del Greco.

Athletics Rout Senators, 8-2

KANSAS CITY, May 4 (AP) —Wally Burnette pitched effectively in relief and Harry Simpson ran his runs batted in total to 15 by knocking in three tallies as the Kansas City Athletics defeated Washington in the first of a 3-game series here tonight, 8-2.

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 4 (AP) — The University of Missouri defeated Kansas State 6-5 and 9-2 in a doubleheader today to sweep a three - game series and move into first place in the Big Seven Conference.

Jay Hankins hit a home run in each game to lead the Tigers and raise his home run total for the season to six.

Kansas State did little to help its own cause as the Wildcats made nine errors in two games, six in the first game and three in the second.

PGA Alleviates Sentences to 4 On Poor Efforts

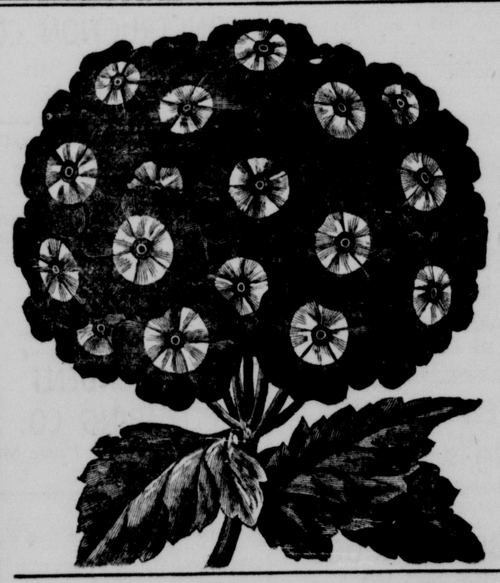

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 4 (AP) —Four tournament golfers given months suspensions for a poor effort in the Kentucky Derby Open had their sentences alleviated with a probration of 90 days and a $200 fine today.

Ed Carter, PGA tournament bureau manager, said the players—George Bayer, Doug Higgins, Don January and Ernie Vossler—had admitted their guilt and expressed regrets for their actions.

In consideration of this fact and "a desire to cooperate with" the sponsors of the Hot Springs, Ark, and Kansas City tournaments, Carter said he was removing the 30-day suspensions assessed the players by Harvey Raynor, tournament supervisor, and substituting the probationary periods and cash fines.

The four players were suspended for making a travesty of the game in protest against failure to receive permission to withdraw from the Kentucky tournament. All said they wanted to withdraw from the third round because they were then out of contention for the money and didn't want to have the expense of playing further.

Over 7,000 Industries Will Be in Directory

More than 7000 Missouri manufacturers are expected to be listed in the new edition of the Directory of Missouri Manufacturers going to press soon, according to Richard M. Kinne, industrial director, Division of Resources and Development.

Companies which have not replied to questionnaires sent out by the division should do so immediately, Kinne said, if they wish to be listed in the publication. The book is published every four years and includes an alphabetical listing as well as a listing according to the Standard Industrial Classification of the products made. There is no charge to manufacturers, he added.

A new service to directory users is available this year. The number of employees will be designated, by use of symbols, to show the size of the company. This service has not been available in previous editions.

The directory is valuable to Missouri manufacturers in two ways, Kinne pointed out. Purchasers use it as a source list for materials they wish to buy, increasing the manufacturer's market potential. Vendors use it as a guide to market their materials, helping Missouri manufacturers improve their source of supply at a more competitive price.

Distribution of the directory will include every state in the nation, Kinne said, as well as some provinces of Canada and other foreign nations.

Prof. Paul A. Grigsby Stays Superintendent

Planning Conference To Be Held Here

The planning conference for the entire Lake of the Ozarks Council will be held this year in Sedalia, on Tuesday. All Council and district personnel will meet at the East Broadway Christian Church for planning sessions, supper, and final decisions on the Scouting program for 1958. This meeting is one of the three major Council meetings during the year, and every sponsor should have its representative present. It is the first time this planning meeting has been held in Sedalia.

Officials Will Make Stopover At Whiteman

The governor of Nebraska, Victor E. Anderson, and nine other prominent civic leaders from Lincoln, Neb., Salina, and Topeka, Kan., arrived at Whiteman Saturday afternoon for a night stop-over before leaving Sunday for the semi-annual fire power demonstration being held at Eglin, AFB, Florida, May 6.

Three local civic leaders will join the fire power guests here tomorrow night for a dinner, given by Col. A. J. Beck, wing commander, and his staff, and then proceed to Eglin with the other guests. The three men are Richard C. Green, executive vice-president of the Missouri Public Service Co. in Kansas City, Edwin Houx, president of the Peoples National Bank at Warrensburg and Earl F. Cheesman, editor of the Carrollton Democrat.

The visitors, including well-known men in the fields of business, medicine, education and civil administration, are the guests of the Eighth Air Force for the three-day orientation trip. Purpose of the fire power demonstration is to acquaint military commanders and civilians with the latest Air Force weapons and tactics by demonstration of the weapons in action at the Eglin Air Force Base proving Grounds.

The visitors will depart Sunday morning at 7:30 for Eglin via New Orleans, and return Monday night.

FAIR-SIZED SANDWICH — Probably wishing she had brought the family along, Virginia Dodge laughs as she leans over to sample this three-foot triple-decker club sandwich. Miss Dodge will reign as Queen of the Chicagoland Fair, from June 29 to July 14. Chef Paul Brunet, right, whipped up this king-size treat, appropriately called "Chicagoland Fair Sandwich," in honor of the event.

No Gimmick

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — J. Ralph Thompson, television dealer who offered a free automobile with every TV set purchased, had a good idea, he thought, but he found purchasers wary.

Some prospective buyers thought the offer would be tied to expensive color sets. Others were more interested in the cars, all "nice" 1946 to '50 used models.

"I've been providing some of the sets the car dealers give away with the sale of a car so I figured why not sell the television set and give away the car." Thompson explained. "That's all. No tricks."

Four Sedalians Return From Trip Through Nine States

Mrs. A. A. Ferguson, Mrs. B. E. Heacock, Mrs. E. C. Cline and Mrs. W. G. Borne' recently returned from a 2,200-mile trip through nine states, visiting the capitals of six states enroute to Washington, D.C.

They traveled across flat country and high bridges, over rivers, some of them out of their banks, inundating lowlands, houses and churches, around through mountains, their sides colored with wild flowers, looking down at rushing streams and flowering redbud and dogwood trees.

At Miltown, W.Va., they were guided through the Blinko Glass Foundry, makers of stained glass for windows, ornamental pieces and lamps. Glass is still blown by the method brought from Europe. Eight years is required for learning the art and the artist can work only two hours at a time. Molten glass is blown from pipes into molds made from applewood thoroughly and continuously water soaked.

In Charlottesville, Va., they visited Monticello, home of Thomas Jefferson. Monticello was begun in 1768 but not completed for more than a quarter of a century, because no work was done unless Jefferson personally supervised it. The mansion and gardens have been restored according to Jefferson's plans, even to the plants intended for each flower bed, the gravel walks and fish pond.

Williamsburg, capitol of colonial Virginia from 1699 to 1779, was restored at a cost of more than 40 million dollars through the interest of John D. Rockefeller Jr., who often visits there. They sat in the House of Burgesses, where Washington, Jefferson and Patrick Henry made history, where the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights were born. They ate bread made by a 1705 recipe, using flour milled the 1705 way, seated at a family table with yard square napkins tied around their neck. They made visits to the bootmakers, the millinery shop and the silversmiths and saw the "latest" hand fashioned articles.

The wigmaker was looking for a young apprentice, who after working 12 hours a day, seven days a week for seven years would be a master wigmaker.

The Palace, elaborately and ornately furnished was the elegant home of seven British governors, the first governors of the Commonwealth. The gardens there are considered to be most typical of formal 18th Century Gardens in America.

The Garden Club of Virginia has completed restorations of 13 historic shrines of national importance. The four ladies, all being Garden Club members or former members, took advantage of the 24th annual historic garden week.

Reliving thrilling early days at the Jamestown Festival, celebrating America's 350th birthday they boarded the flagship "Godspeed," which with the "Susan Constant" and "Discovery" brought 105 colonists to the New World. They visited in the lodge of Chief Powhatan and the reconstructed James Fort, where nine-tenths of the colonists died of starvation.

They traveled Washington's Burgess Route to Alexandria, home town of George Washington, George Mason and Robert E. Lee, and saw Christ Church, Lee's Corner and Captain's Row, which looks today just as it did in the 18th century, when Hessian prisoners laid the cobbled streets.

In Washington, D.C., they enjoyed 97½ degree weather on Easter. Sightseeing in and around the District of Columbia included a boat trip to Mt. Vernon, plus 68 points of interest, concluding at Arlington National Cemetery, where they witnessed the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. The Japanese cherry trees were in full bloom at this time.

Mrs. Heacock visited her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. William String, Cecila, Marcia and Barbara at Annapolis, Md., and Mrs. Ferguson visited Mrs. E. M. Johannes and Miss Ethel Johannes, former Sedalians, at Silver Springs, Md., before returning home.

Sedalia Girl Directs Best Sorority Chorus

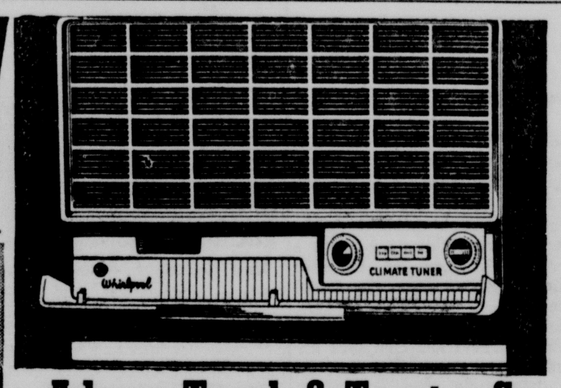

In the annual Greek Song Fete held at Central Missouri State College Wednesday night in Hendrick Hall, the Delta Zeta Sorority and the Kappa Sigma Kappa Fraternity were the winners of the competitive contest.

The director of the winning Delta Zetas was Miss Shirley M. Kirkpatrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kirkpatrick, 1800 East 12th St. She is a junior and a music major at CMSC. Shirley is also vice president of Delta Zeta Sorority. Tom Coleman of DeSoto, Mo., was director for the men of Kappa Sigma Kappa.

Mrs. Eugene P. Burke

Miss Martha Wiemholt Exchanges Vows With E. P. Burke On Tuesday

At nine o'clock Monday morning, April 22, Miss Martha Wiemholt became the bride of Eugene P. Burke in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. J. T. Noland at St. Patrick's Church. Bouquets of spring flowers and palms formed the setting for the formal wedding.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Wiemholt, 103 East 28th and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burke, 1602 South Vermont.

Mrs. John Seifner was the organist and high mass was sung by William Couhig, James Buckley, Eulalia Anton, Dorothy Pfieffer and Janet Riley. William Couhig sang "Mother Beloved," "Mother At Your Feet Is Kneeling," "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother" and "Panis Angelicus."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a floor length gown of bordered white Chantilly lace over bridal satin. The fitted bodice of lace, underlined with tulle, had long, tapering sleeves and high neck finished with a mandarin collar. On the sheer tulle yoke a hand-cut pattern of the lace was appliqued to form a lovely shoulder design. The bouffant skirt was fashioned with an apron of lace over tulle which was finished with a wide dust ruffle of gathered tulle. The back of the skirt featured a cascade of lace and tulle ruffles from the waist to the hemline. Her double fingertip veil of illusion cascaded from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Her sister, Miss Carolyn Wiemholt was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina dress of nile green nylon lace and tulle over taffeta. The fitted strapless bodice had a scalloped edge and was filled in with ruffles of tulle. The bouffant skirt was fashioned with an apron effect of lace banded with nile green satin ribbon. A very deep ruffle of tulle was gathered below the apron and was finished at the center back with a bow and streamers of ribbon. A stole covered the shoulders. Her headdress was a bandeau of matching taffeta and she carried a bouquet of green daisies.

The bridesmaids, Miss Carolyn Steffen, Miss Joan Horst and Miss Joann Sedlak, wore identically styled dresses in pastel colors of pink, yellow and blue respectively. Their daisy bouquets were dyed to match their dresses.

Anthony Menefee served as best man and groomsmen were Bobby Burke, cousin of the bridegroom, LaMonte, Robert Bennett and Freddie Ressel. Larry Burke, cousin of the bridegroom, and James and Richard Wiemholt, brothers of the bride, ushered.

Preceding the bride to the altar was the flower girl, Rita Fischer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fischer, and cousin of the bridegroom. She was dressed in a floor length dress of white taffeta with nylon net overskirt. Her head band was of pink carnations and she carried a pink basket of rose petals.

Mike White, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. White, wearing a white suit, carried the rings.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wiemholt chose a printed dacron dress with matching linen duster accented with black accessories and white carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents for the bridal party and relatives.

A reception was held that afternoon from 2:30 until 4:30.

The tiered wedding cake surrounded by pink rosebuds and greenery centered the lace covered table. Lighted tapers in crystal holders were on either side.

Miss Patricia Menefee and Miss Beverly Miller served. Miss Carolyn Wiemholt was in charge of the guest book.

For traveling the bride chose a print silk sheath dress with matching orchid duster. Her corsage was the orchid from the bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and is employed at Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

The bridegroom, also a Sacred Heart High School graduate, is a meat cutter at A&P Tea Co. in Higginsville.

They are residing at 820 West Third.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Liebel, 1500 East Tenth, announce the marriage of their daughter, Marjorie, to Paul M. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wright, Tallmadge, O. The wedding took place January 18, 1957. A reception will be held this afternoon from 3 until 4:30 at the Immanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Miss Geraldine Ruth Maier, whose engagement and approaching marriage to A-2c Robert W. Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mann, Lansing, Mich., has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Maier, California. The wedding will take place May 25 in Warrensburg.

F. Wahlers Observes His 72nd Birthday

Fred Wahlers, 419 North Hill, was honored April 28 at a dinner held at his home in celebration of his 72nd birthday.

All five of his children attended and all except four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren were present.

A contributive dinner was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wahlers, Mr. and Mrs. John Wahlers and sons, Stover, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Kreisler and children, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wahlers and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Murray and daugters, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Goldsmith and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Roe.

Catherine Gerike Becomes Bride Easter Sunday Of R. Ackerman

At six o'clock Sunday evening, April 21, Miss Catherine Gerike, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Gerike, Cole Camp, was united in marriage with Robert L. Ackerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Ackerman, Lincoln, at the Trinity Lutheran Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the bride's father before a setting of Easter lilies, white daisies and narcissus and lighted tapers in cathedral candelabra.

As the guests were being seated L. C. Schnell, organist, played "O Promise Me," "Because" and "Take Thou My Hands and Lead Me." During the ceremony he played "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used.

Mrs. Dean Case, Cole Camp, and Miss Hazel Canida, Lincoln, lighted the candles. They wore dresses of blue polished cotton with white nylon overskirt.

Preceding the bride to the altar was her maid of honor, Miss Adelle Gerike, a sister, and her bridesmaids, Miss Ruth Gerike, also a sister, Mrs. Don Gerkin, and Miss Carol Lou Pritzel, all of Kansas City. The maid of honor wore a periwinkle blue street length dress of polished cotton with white chiffon overskirt. The bridesmaids wore robin egg blue dresses designed identical to the honor attendants. They carried white daisy bouquets.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of Capri crystalette with ice blue slip. The fitted bodice featured a gathered yoke and cap sleeves of Rose Point lace. The flared skirt was fashioned with an insert of wide shirring and a flounce of Rose Point lace. Her fingertip veil cascaded from a small tiara. She carried a white orchid surrounded by white feather carnations and lily-of-the-valley.

Dean Case served as best man and groomsmen were Leland Pritzel, Cole Camp, Donald Gerken, Kansas City, and Alvin Pritzel, Cole Camp.

Larry John Stelling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hillard Stilling, Cole Camp, was ring bearer.

Both mothers wore navy blue dresses with matching accessories and pink carnation corsages.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Trinity Lutheran school basement. Spring flowers and white wedding bells were used as decorations.

Miss Carolyn Boeschen and Mrs. Leonard Creek, both of Cole Camp, served the cake and punch. Mrs. Reinhold Henning, Lincoln, was in charge of the guest book.

The couple left on a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks. For traveling the bride wore a beige sheath linen dress with short cape and black accessories. A white orchid graced her left shoulder.

The bride graduated from Cole Camp High School and was employed as a secretary in Kansas City.

The bridegroom, also a Cole Camp High School graduate, is a barber in Sedalia.

They are residing in Sedalia.

Mrs. Yeager Is Host To MoPac Women

Mrs. Frank Yeager entertained the Missouri Pacific Womens Club at the April meeting.

Decorations were in keeping with the Easter season. The lace covered table was centered with a bowl of jonquils and white candles in crystal holders.

Mrs. John White reported that the club netted $44.26 on the chili supper. An ice cream social will be held in July with the proceeds to go to a charity organization.

Plans were made for members to go to Kansas City and appear on the "Noon Time" TV program.

Mrs. Frank Rouchka, Mrs. A. W. Rasa, Mrs. Oscar Purnell, Mrs. M. H. Shelby were hostesses for the month.

Long considered "taboo" by many housewives, certain color combinations of blue and green are becoming popular in home decorations.

More than a blending of blue and green to produce aqua or turquoise, these colors are definite blues and greens used in the same room. New wallpaper patterns are shown with this color combination. A white ground with blue and green pattern and touch of gold is very pleasing. An accent color in same room could be burnt orange.

Sheer Dresses are always appealing for summer wear. They look cool, appear more feminine than many fabrics and of course, most easy to care for. Nylon or dacron and cotton are among the favorites as they require little or no ironing. Nylon prints are gorgeous and are especially pretty for half-size dresses. Dacron and cotton combinations are prettiest in solid colors and are particularly nice in soft pastels. Cotton voile is an all time favorite and this season we find it both in print and solid color. Grey, toast, and eyeshadow blue are the prettiest shades and over a slip of the same color they are especially nice. Batiste, tissue gingham and dimity complete the list of sheer fabrics and they are all beautiful. Of course, all the above fabrics are washable and oh so cool on a hot day. If you shy away from full skirts in the heavier fabrics—you will find skirts with fullness made in the sheer fabrics are most wearable. Try them on. you will love them for a change.

Mrs. Robert G. Schemenauer

Miss Donna Chambers Becomes The Bride Of Robert G. Schemenauer

Miss Donna Louise Chambers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Chambers, 1718 South Park, exchanged wedding vows with Robert G. Schemenauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schemenauer, Chippewa Falls, Wis., at ten o'clock Saturday morning, April 27 at Sacred Heart Rectory. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. James Schrader.

For her wedding the bride chose a ballerina length dress of white rose patterned Chantilly lace over net and taffeta. The elongated bodice which was cut to form a V at the center front, had bracelet length sleeves and a scallop edged scoop neckline outlined with pearls. The very full circular skirt of lace was underlaid with a skirt of many tiered ruffles of net over taffeta. The bride's headdress was a crown of lace which held her double illusion veil. She carried a nosegay of white carnations and tiny rosebuds tied with white satin ribbon with long streamers.

Her only attendant, Mrs. Barbara Stockstill, wore a short dress of pale pink nylon organza embroidered in white, over pink taffeta designed with flaring skirt and sleeveless carico jacket trimmed with taffeta. Her bandeau was of pink carnations. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations tied with matching satin streamer.

Robert Dachel, Chippewa Falls, Wis., served as best man.

Both mothers were attired in blue dresses and had white accessories and white carnation corsages.

A reception was held that afternoon from 2 until 4 at Bothwell Hotel. Bouquets of pink carnations were used as decorations. The four tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, was encircled with pink carnations and greenery.

Miss Sue Keller, Miss Gloria Williams and Mrs. Wanda Smith served the cake and punch. Miss Clara Wilborne was in charge of the guest book.

They were dressed in identical semi-formals of pastel shades of yellow, green, pink and blue, with white taffeta cummerbunds and white carnation corsages tied with ribbon to match their dress.

The bride graduated from Smith-Cotton High School with the class of 1955 and was employed in the License Department of Askew Motor Co.

The bridegroom is a 1952 graduate of Chippewa Falls High School. He served four years with the Air Force and received his discharge at WAFB in March. He is now employed with McDonald Aircraft in St. Louis.

They are residing at 617½ Lewis in St. Charles.

Local BPW Members Attend Convention

The 35th annual convention of the Missouri Federation Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., was held in Kansas City at Muehlebach Hotel April 26-28. The theme of the convention was "Eyes to the Future."

Miss Beulah Kirksey, Springfield, was re-elected president.

Mrs. Anna Bagby, president of the Sedalia club, served on the nominating committee on Friday. Mrs. Bagby was one of the tellers at the election of officers.

Mrs. Joseph Karman

Vera M. Harms Joseph Karman Exchange Vows

Miss Vera Mae Harms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harms of Cole Camp and Mr. Joseph Karman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Karman of Stover, exchanged marriage vows at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, April 22, at Trinity Lutheran Church in Cole Camp. The Rev. H. J. Gerike, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Erich Heimsoth, Corder, organist played a prelude of wedding music including the traditional wedding march.

The church was decorated with white Easter lilies.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding she chose a rose colored suit with white accesssories and a corsage of white carnations. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls and matching earrings.

The couple was attended by Miss Alice Harms, cousin of the bride and Eugene Karman, brother of the groom.

Miss Harms wore a beige suit and white carnation corsage.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece lilac ensemble and a white carnation corsage. The groom's mother wore a blue and white dacron ensemble and corsage of white carnations.

A wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at 6:30 that evening. Mrs. Harold Viebrock had charge of the guest book.

After a honeymoon trip of undisclosed destination, the couple will make their home at Cole Camp where the groom is employed with the H. J. Hessefort Construction Co.

Mrs. Ronald E. Dillingham

Miss Ruth Riley, Ronald Dillingham Are United In Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Ruth Ellen Riley became the bride of Ronald E. Dillingham at half past two o'clock Sunday afternoon, April 28, at the Flat Creek Baptist Church. The Rev. Lonnie D. Martin, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar setting of urns of white and pink gladiola and daisies flanked on either side by wrought iron candelabra holding white tapers and accented with dark green foliage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mason W. Riley, Sedalia, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Dillingham, Warrensburg.

Mrs. Ralph Thomas played appropriate wedding music while the candles were being lighted by Mrs. Donald Canfield, sister of the groom. They were attired in ballerina length gowns of pink and blue dotted swiss. Their wrist corsages were of pink carnations.

Miss Marion Lowry, soloist, sang "Because," "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of tulle and lace over satin. The fitted bodice of Chantilly lace featured a sweetheart neckline and long tapering sleeves. The softly gathered skirt worn over hoops was accented with lace edging on the outer layer of tulle. Her veil of illusion deeply edged in lace fell from a seed pearl tiara. She wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Charles Wiechen, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a ballerina gown of rose nylon over taffeta styled with a scoop neck, short sleeves and bouffant skirt. A wide taffeta sash tied in the back.

Miss Della Schleuter, bridesmaid, wore an identical dress in Dior blue. Both attendants wore matching headdresses and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Wayne Dillingham served as his cousin's best man and Leonard Lamb, also a cousin of the bridegroom, was groomsman. James Sproot and William Evans were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a dress of blue and white nylon jersey with white accessories, and pink carnation corsage. The groom's mother was attired in a two piece black dress, complimented with gray and black accessories and pink carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception for 100 guests was held in the church basement. The three tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was surrounded with pink roses and fern. White tapers and a crystal punch bowl were also on the linen covered table.

Serving at the reception were Miss Yvonne Ackerman, Mrs. Donald Canfield, Mrs. Lonnie Martin and Mrs. Kurman Riley, aunt of the bride. Miss Betty Sink was in charge of the guest book.

For traveling the bride wore a two piece blue faille dress with navy accessories. The couple left on a trip to the Lake of the Ozarks and southern Missouri.

The bride graduated from Smithton High School and is now a student at Central Missouri State College.

The groom is a graduate of CMSC Laboratory School. He is presently engaged in farming.

They will reside in Warrensburg.

Miss Saron Ann Askey, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Larry L. Yonce, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Yonce, 1101 East Ninth, is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Askey Jr., 1808 South Missouri.

Newsmen Questioned Policy

Dulles Explains His Stand On Red China to Publisher

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles, defending the State Department ban on visits to Red China by American newsmen, says the administration's foreign policy would be impotent if Americans did not accept "certain restraints."

Dulles' comment was made public Wednesday by Arthur Hays Sulzberger, publisher of the New York Times.

Sulzberter wrote Dulles April 23 expressing belief that "the administration is abridging the freedom of the press and using the press as an instrument in its diplomacy."

Dulles' letter of reply, dated April 30, said U. S. foreign policy "inevitably involves the acceptance of certain restraints by the American people. If it were not so, foreign policy would be impotent."

Sulzberger had written that he considered Dulles recently had taken "a good step forward" in suggesting that some formula could be found for a passport policy permitting responsible United States news gathering in Red China.

Wrote Dulles:

"The newsgathering fraternity, not the State Department, must distinguish between responsible newsgatherers and adventurers more interested in visiting China than reporting what is going on there."

The secretary of state said "the constitutional 'freedom of the press' related to publication, and not to the gathering of news."

"There are, of course, many occasions and many areas where, for security or policy reasons, newspaper correspondents are excluded," he said.

"I have discussed this problem informally with a number of leaders in the newspaper field. One of them made the suggestion that the newsgathering fraternity might agree to some 'pooling' arrangement as has sometimes been the case in the past.

"I felt that, if so, we might be able to accept that without the unacceptable consequences . . ."

Dulles has stressed that the number of correspondents in China should be limited and that those who are there should make their dispatches available to all newspapers.

In this connection he said: " . . . The reasoning which leads responsible members of the newsgathering fraternity to conclude that they cannot draw lines as between themselves points up the difficulty of the department's drawing lines as between 'responsible' newsgatherers and what you call 'frivolous journalistic adventurers.'

"Also I see no valid distinction between newsgatherers and those members of other professions who claim a constitutional right to travel, once travel for a profession as a whole is allowed."

"When young men are drafted and sent abroad," Dulles said, "they are used as instruments of foreign policy. When business people are not allowed to trade with Communist China, they might equally argue that they are being used as instruments of our diplomacy."

"Foreign policy and diplomacy cannot succeed unless in fact, it channels the activities of our people, and in this respect newspapermen also have their loyalty and patriotic duty."

Attend District Home Ec Meeting

Mrs. Lawrence Cook, president of the Moniteau County Home Economics Extension Council and Mrs. Loy Allee, a member of the Donley Extension Club and treasurer of the State Home Economics Extension Club Council, attended a district meeting in Jefferson City for the purpose of studying extension programs and making plans for future programs.

Mrs. Lawrence Cook and Mrs. Viola Smith, home agent of Moniteau County presented a report on what extension club women had included in public affairs programs. Such activities included rural meetings, marketing meetings, presentation of balanced farming progress, career day teas, civil defense, and international speakers at council meetings and achievement day.

Counties represented at the conference were Camden, Cole, Gasconade, Miller, Moniteau, Morgan, Osage and Pulaski.

KN Juniors Entertain Senior Class

The annual junior-senior banquet was held at the Knob Noster High School Friday evening, when the juniors assisted by their faculty sponsors, Mrs. Jack Thomas and Lee Walters entertained the seniors in the multi-purpose room of the elementary school. Also present were members of the high school faculty, their wives and husbands, secretary to the superintendent, Mrs. Byron Lane and Mr. Lane, and members of the school board and their wives.

The room represented "Fairyland" with elves on a wishing well. Colored crepe paper streamers formed a canopy with colored balloons in the center. On the wall were the words "A Fairyland Romance".

The small tables were covered with pastel colored cloths and adorned with various colored candles in crystal holders.

The banquet was prepared by the PTA and served by the following sophomore girls: Judy Wimer, Marlene Droege, Malba Higgins, Joyce Warren, Kay Baker, Barbara Cole, Claudene Allen, Barbara Lane and Darlene Ihrig. They wore polka-dot skirts and white blouses.

The program follows: toast to seniors, Donnie Kendrick; acceptance, Marilyn Draper; presentation of key, George Cooper; acceptance, W. H. Draper; reading of the prophecy, Janet Neitzert; reading of the will, Barbara Murphy; address, "You Too, Have a Magic Wand", Supt. James Jageman; clarinet duets by Norma Sue Oldfather and Ellen Neiderwimmer; accordian solo, Janet Edminster.

Following the banquet a prom was given by the seniors.

Dates Ahead

May 7—County Council meeting, Assembly Room of Courthouse at 8 p.m.

May 8—Part of County Rural Youth Committee will meet at 8 p.m. to select delegates to State 4-H Club Week, State Junior Leader Camp, State Health Camp, and State Conservation Camp. Applications for these events are due by 5 p.m. May 8.

College Scholarship Through 4-H Work

There are many awards made to 4-H members. Among those that are most important to members are educational trips and scholarships.

There are several scholarships available this year to those members who have done well in their 4-H club work.

For example, the Edward K. Love Foundation offers six scholarships of $150 each to the University of Missouri. Requirements to be eligible for these scholarships are: must be a high school graduate, submit through their county extension office a Standard Report Form and a story by July 1 outlining individual and club accomplishments in wildlife conservation. A personal photograph should be included.

The Watkins Scholarship to the University of Missouri is offered by J. R. Watkins of Winona, Minn., to one boy and one girl. All 4-H members who are National 4-H Conference entries and indicate they can use a scholarship in 1957-58 will be considered. To be eligible for this, members were to have submitted a Standard Report Form and a personal photograph by April 1.

Two scholarships of $250 each are offered by F. G. Gurley, president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad. These scholarships may be used at any land-grant college. Selections will be made from the 1955, '56 and '57 Santa Fe delegates to National Club Congress. Applicants must complete a Standard Report Form by Oct. 1.

A $100 scholarship is offered to the University of Missouri by the Rock Island railroad for outstanding 4-H club work. Application must be made on a Standard Report Form by Oct. 1.

A scholarship of $150 to the University of Missouri is offered to 4-H members who have made outstanding achievements in dairy project work. It is sponsored by the Colgate-Palmolive Co. Applications are to be made on a Standard Report Form by July 1. A picture and a story listing the member's dairy achievements must be included.

There are two new $150 scholarships offered to the University for 4-H members doing quality egg work and who will be freshmen at the university this fall for the 1957-58 school year. Members must submit a Standard Report Form, a story telling of their project accomplishments, and a picture. These applications are due July 1.

Another new scholarship of $150 to the University of Missouri is a memorial to the late A. W. Godfrey, former member of the advisory committee to the Missouri 4-H Foundation. It is available to 4-H members who have done outstanding work. Applications are due July 1.

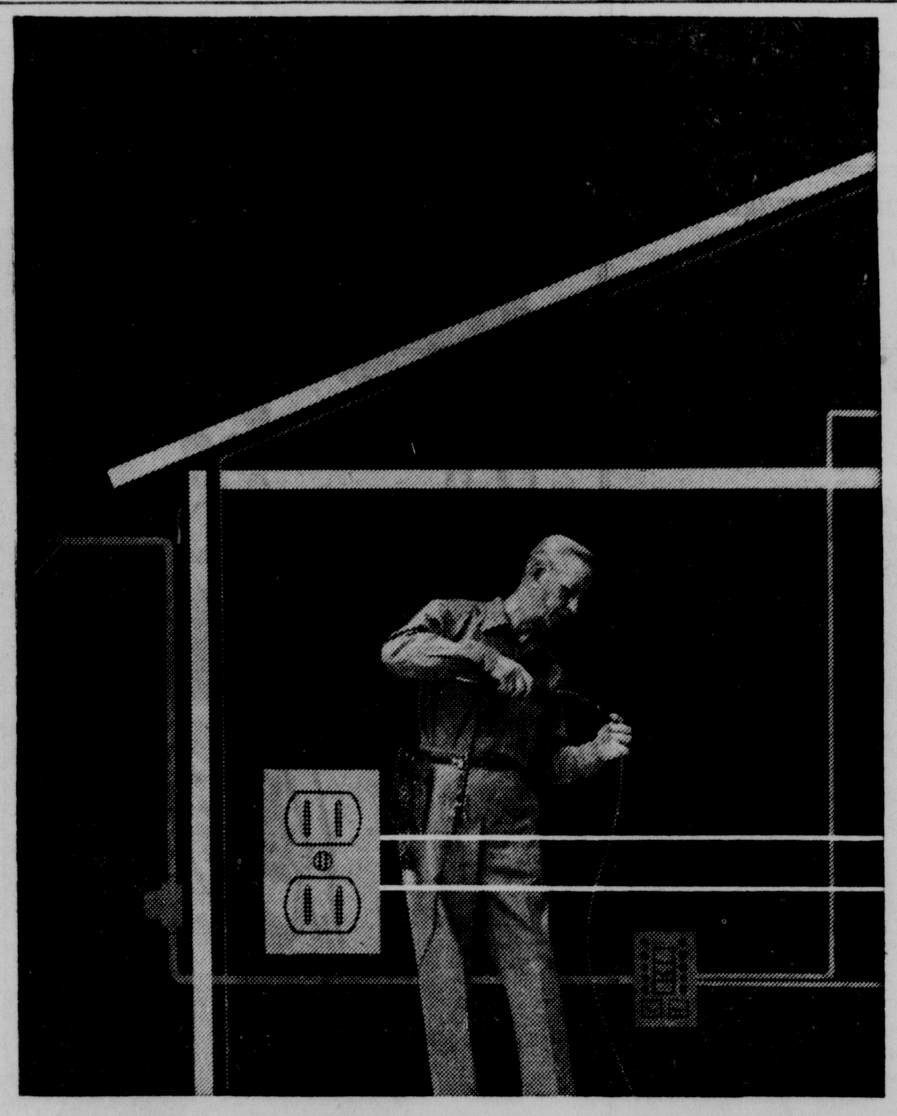

In addition to these state scholarships, there are 132 national scholarships of $400 each for which Missouri club members may make application. Applications due Oct. 1.

For more information of these scholarships, 4-H members should check with their leaders and county extension agents.

Scout Camporee's Downpour Fails to Halt the Activity

The 1957 Camporee for the Pettis District, bogged down to some extent by heavy rain, closed another chapter of camping last Sunday when awards were given to the participating Scout troops.

A driving rain about 6:30 p.m. Friday evening caught several of the campers about midway in their effort to set up facilities for the troops. Hard hit by the avalanch of water was Troop 69, St. Paul's Lutheran Church; Troop 52 of the First Baptist Church, and Troop 65 of the Broadway Presbyterian Church. Kenneth Schreiner of Troop 69 said, "We expected to get wet, but we thought our boys would some day have to operate under these conditions, so they took things as they came."

Keith Ekstrom of Troop 65 voiced the same opinion, but commented, "We will probably know how to handle the situation if it ever comes up again."

Charles Hofheins of Troop 52 was probably hardest hit of all. Site for his camp was laid out at the bottom of the hill just east of general headquarters. Without enough dry clothing and dry equipment, they attempetd to pull out early Saturday morning, but found their vehicle unable to negotiate the slippery terrain. They were stuck. A wrecker after working for about two hours, hauled the beaten and wet boys to dry ground. Paul Anthes did not fare as well, it was mid-afternoon before he was able to tow his car from its pit of mud.

Troop 66 of the First Christian Church had completed its camp before the torrential downpour.

Troop 58, Leo Coxson; Troop 50, Clarence Roe; Troop 150, Clyde Waggoner, and Troop 152, Earle Williams, waited until Saturday morning to set up their camps.

Troop 57, housed in a regular barracks for Scouts missed the experience of wet clothing and equipment, but they, too, had their troubles building fire for cooking. Scoutmaster Hill when asked how his boys fared said, "We will try to get an entry in the Kentucky Derby, we're fair mudders, too."

A new unit in the Pettis District, Troop 51, whose Scoutmaster is Clarence Robertson, had not received their equipment and couldn't participate in the try-to-keep-dry event, but they were on hand early Saturday morning to go through the skills with the other troops.

Camping and activities chairman, Roy Kline, who laid out plans for this year's Camporee was pleased with the overall results of the outing, said he believed it was good for the boys to work in the rain and mud. "They have had excellent weather heretofore, so I guess it was our turn to battle the elements. However, I'll be glad to take these boots off."

Registrar Jim Green and his aides, P. A. Sillers and Dave Clements, were kept busy posting the skill scores as individual cards on each patrol were tabbed just as quickly as they could be picked up from the judges.

C. A. Phillips, district chairman, remarked when presenting the patrol ribbons, "There is no reason to feel let down because there are no blue ribbons We had at first decided to take into consideration the weather, but as you know you boys will soon reach the age when there can be no allowances made because of rain and mud. We are all proud of you regardless of the color of the ribbon you receive. We know you tried."

Patrol scores were compared to a standard: 425 points to earn a blue ribbon, 300 or more for a red ribbon, and 100 for a white ribbon. Points could be earned on a basis of 325 for skill events (fire-building, compass, first aid, etc.), 65 on Scout spirit (primarily participation in Camporee activities regardless of weather), and 100 points on self-rating of organization and efficiency.

Patrols meriting red ribbons were: Flaming Arrow, Apache and Bobwhite, Troop 58, Sacred Heart Church; Rattlesnake and Flaming Arrow, Troop 150, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints; Eagle and Apache, Troop 69, St. Paul's Lutheran Church; and Apache, Troop 50, East Broadway Christian Church.

Patrols earning white ribbons were: Rattlesnake and Raven, Troop 57, Immanue' Evangelical and Reformed Church; Eagle, Troop 66, First Christian Church; Bat, Flaming Arrow and Hawk, Troop 65, Broadway Presbyterian Church; Sioux, Troop 50, East Broadway Christian Church; Cobra, Troop 51, Federated Church; and Blackfoot and Owl, Troop 152, Green Ridge IOOF 300.

Club Makes Paper Hats At the April Meeting

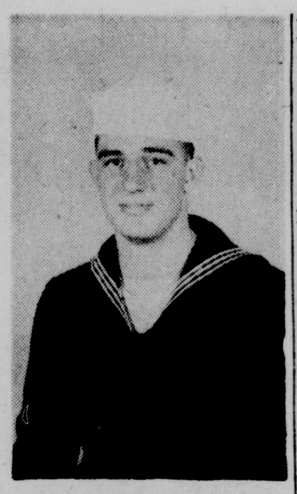

Mrs. Homer Bowers was hostess to the Tebo Homemakers Extension Club for the April meeting. Present were 21 members and four visitors: Mrs. Ed Gray, Mrs. Oscar Bowers, Mrs. Claude Pinkston and Mrs. Edward Miles.

Mrs. Will Chipman presided. A devotional service was given by Mrs. Shy Miller and Mrs. Rolla Askins. Roll call was answered by demonstration of a dress you had made. A report from the county council meeting was given by Mrs. Allen Titsworth. She also gave a report of the bake sale. Miss Katherine Zimmerman's letter was read by Mrs. Clyde Hayhurst.

Twenty-four dresses were contributed to the collection made by the club for Mercy Hospital. The lesson, "Laundry and Care of Different Fabrics" was given by Mrs. Homer Bowers and Mrs. Charley Crawford. Mrs. Harry Redford, game leader, gave each one a sheet of paper, pins and a strip of print for ribbon, to make a hat. Mrs. Hayhurst won first and Mrs. Lee Higgs, second.

Mrs. Edward Miles became a new member.

The hostess served refreshments. Next meeting will be May 28.

Representative Visits Sedalia Red Cross Unit

Miss Dorothy Staley, general field representative, visited the local chapter this week and announced the reappointment of Mrs. Harold Dean as volunteer field consultant for the National American Red Cross. Mrs. Dean will attend a conference in St. Louis next week, meeting with other volunteer field consultants and the national staff.

Mrs. Frank Hayes, motor service, delivered swimming cards to all the schools in Sedalia this week. Cards were mailed to the schools in the outlying towns. Henry Sutton, chairman of water safety, urges that the cards be completed and returned to the Red Cross office as early as possible in order that the choice of instruction may be secured. Closing date is June 12, and no cards can be accepted after that date.

The following volunteers from the First Baptist Church sewed at the Whiteman Air Force Base Hospital Wednesday: Mrs. George Dryden, Mrs. Earl Thomas, Mrs. A. C. Bell, Mrs. Willa Laudenberger and Mrs. J. B. Goddard.

Michael Wolfel, chairman of safety services, reports 22 junior and one standard first aid certificates were issued to persons completing the training.

Many Books Are Available For Interest in Astronomy

Since the beginning of time the heavens have fired the wonder and imagination of man.

Steady interest in the stars and astronomy is shown by patrons of the Sedalia Public Library. Few subjects receive more widespread or sustained interest, and many books are available for astronomy enthusiasts.

Facts about the universe and the earth's place in the universe are given in such recent books as George Gamow's "Creation of the Universe," Fred Hoyle's "The Nature of the Universe,' and Fritz Kahns "Design of the Universe.'

Especially of interest to beginning astronomy fans are such books as "The Heavens Are Telling,' by Urana Clarke; "Basic Astronomy," by Peter Van de Kamp; "Astronomy Handbook," by L. A. Hausman; "Frontiers of Astronomy," by Fred Hoyle and "Olcott's Field Book of the Skies.

Books on the stars and constellations are also plentiful. A few of the titles are "The Story of Variable Stars," by Leon Campbell and Luigi Jacchia; Hans Rey's "The Stars," and Herbert Zims "The Stars.'

Books are also available at the library on the various planets, the sun, moon, and other aspects of the solar system.

Versailles Church Circles Convene

Circles of the Versailles Methodist Church met as follows:

Proceed With Caution

There was a time when an eyewitness, and the personal identification he could make, was just about the most prized factor that could be sought in cracking a criminal case.

What better than the evidence of someone right on the scene, who can report with reasonable accuracy the details of the crime, including a description of the perpetrator?

Lately, however, the testimony of the eyewitness has occasionally fallen into serious discredit. Here and there, but mostly in New York City, a series of "wrong man" identifications has plagued police and subjected innocent citizens to unwarranted jailing, varying degrees of harsh treatment, and damage to reputation.

The most striking case, of course, was that of Manny Balestrero, former New York night-club bass fiddle player, who was falsely accused of robbery. The strain of that ordeal put his wife for a time in a mental hospital.

There have been numerous others, the newest a by-product of the arrest of young Thomas Higgins in Brooklyn on charges of brutally slaying two women this year. Higgins, according to police, told them he had attacked nine other women in recent months.

One of these was a young married woman who earlier had identified another youth, one Russell Ericksen, as her assailant. He is almost a double of Higgins. But now she believes Higgins rather than Ericksen is the man.

Naturally there is much room for human error in this business of identifying others, particularly if a scene is dark and the events of a case are fast and turbulent. But possibly that is exactly the point.

Obviously, when the conditions for visual identification are poor, both the police and the grand jury must move with extreme caution, seeking strong corroborative evidence before inflicting on any citizen the irretrievable loss that goes with arrest and possible indictment and conviction.

Even when conditions are good, there must be great care. For those who "identified" Balestrero in the robbery case viewed both him and the actual thief in broad daylight at reasonably close range.

Human dignity and reputation are at stake, with a man's standing in the community and ability to earn a livelihood deeply involved. They are not things to be cast aside lightly.

A Lisbon Fishwife Is Part Of the Picturesque Life

FISH FOR SALE . . . A Lisbon fishwife awaits a customer

By JOSE SHERCLIFF

LISBON (AP) — A Lisbon fishwife or "Varina" is not a mere seller of fish. She has been part of the picturesque and virile life of the city for centuries, a symbol, and a person to be respected.

You can see her early in the morning marching up the hill from the "lota" or dockside fish auction, easily balancing 30 pounds or so of fish on her head in a huge flat basket or "canastra." She has bought it herself, rising at dawn and battling in the almost incomprehensible Dutch auction, in which the auctioneer begins at a top price and like lightning descends the scale until someone shouts "XUI!" and the fish is hers.

As she climbs up one of the seven steep hills of Lisbon with her basket, the varina will probably be knitting, and at the same time crying her wares. They are anything from glittering lengths of swordfish, coral crayfish like monstrous glowing flowers, turbot, whiting, exotic cuttlefish, or soles fresh from the sea behind her. She may have her baby cosily tucked in a shawl on top of the fish. Her footwear will be there most of the time.

The varina has her traditional dress — shortish full skirt under a flowered or embroidered apron, heavy brown shawl as often as not knotted around her hips, a colored wool kerchief over her hair. She sometimes wears the "segra" (mother-in-law), a felt ring which she puts on top of her head to balance her basket on. Sometimes a little round hard hat serves the purpose just as well. Her high necked blouse often hides most of her fortune in the form of heavy gold chains. Solid gold earrings dangle from her ears, and she wears an old-fashioned gold brooch. Traditionally she will never wear shoes if she can get out of it.

This is not so easy nowadays.

A law was passed some years ago making it illegal for anyone to walk barefoot through the streets of Lisbon. Police enforce the law with sharp eyes and ready fines. They are not so quick as their fishwife prey, however, for the barefoot woman will whip a pair of mules or clogs out of her basket and slip them onto her feet in less time than it takes a policeman to open his mouth to summon her. The public is on her side, too, and I have seen many a smartly dressed pedestrian tip off the barefoot fishwife that a policeman lurks around the next corner.

The Lisbon fishwife is less police fearing than feared by the police. In an argument always get behind the nearest varina. The way in which she can wield her canastra like a weapon and bring it down on the head of a policeman with all her brawny strength is an impressive sight. In the old days of strikes, the varinas marched in the van as a sort of shock squad.

Only a few days ago I saw a fishwife having what appeared to be an argument with her boy friend. She was holding a fish that must have weighed all of six pounds in her hand. Suddenly she brought it across the man's face. Reeling, he clapped his hand to a cheek on which welts were already beginning to rise.

GOPism Bad Word on Capitol Hill

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The most important fact on Capitol Hill, as members of Congress compared notes following the Easter recess, is that "modern Republicanism" has become a dirty word.

No one is standing up to fight for it, except possibly the Democrats.

It was on the night of Nov. 6 that President Eisenhower, re-elected by one of the most overwhelming sweeps in modern times, told the nation and his own party that his great ambition during the next four years was to remake the Republican party in his own image.

That was exactly six months ago. Today the chief planks in the President's platform of modern Republicanism—aid to education, foreign aid, minimum wages, Social Security, etc.—are almost entirely deserted by the Republicans. Most of the planks are included in the battle over the budget, and this battle is the most significant taking place anywhere in the nation.

The average Republican will tell you that the chief reason for their desertion of their own President is that he can't run again, therefore has lost his political bargaining power. That, however, is only a small part of the story. Other presidents who did not run again did not let their power go down the drain in six short months.

The answer, therefore, is deeper, more significant. It boils down to three things. Republican leaders know:

1. Ike will not fight for his friends.
2. He will not discipline his enemies.
3. He will frequently change his mind on issues, leaving those who supported him out on a limb.

Alex Wiley's Lesson

The latter is illustrated in the battle over the budget right now. Many a Republican senator agrees in his heart with the President regarding the importance of the budget. But he's afraid that if he makes a fight for the budget, the President will suddenly change his mind, leaving the senator out in front, waving for his cohorts to follow while the cohorts of "modern Republicanism" retreat with Ike in the opposite direction.

Ike's recent retreat on the budget to the tune of $1,700,000,000 was one straw in the wind. It made every senator who was about to defend the budget stop, look, and wonder whether Ike was going to retreat again.

Some of them also point to the sad experience of Sen. Alex Wiley of Wisconsin. No Republican on Capitol Hill fought harder for Eisenhower policies than Wiley. He fought McCarthy. He also fought against isolation in a state where isolation is sometimes popular.

And when Wisconsin isolationists ganged up to defeat him last year, everyone expected that Eisenhower would come to Wiley's defense. Wiley asked for support, begged for one little word from Eisenhower. He got none. The McCarthy-isolationists refused to nominate him, forced him into a convention. Finally he won.

But he won entirely on his own. So today Alex Wiley owes no debt to the President. He won despite the President, and he isn't sticking his neck out for the President any more.

Kissing Your Enemies

Other senators know this. They have watched other cases where the President failed to go to bat for his friends—the most notable being that of Gen. George Marshall, the chief of staff who promoted Ike from lieutenant colonel to lieutenant general and made him commander-in-chief in Europe.

Though Marshall was branded a traitor by Sen. William Jenner of Indiana, Ike allowed himself to be photographed in friendly pose with Jenner. Later, when Ike advisers inserted two paragraphs in Ike's Milwaukee speech praising General Marshall, Ike was persuaded by friends of Joe McCarthy to eliminate the two paragraphs.

In brief, Ike kissed his friends' enemies.

This set a pattern early in the Eisenhower administration. Republican politicians made note of it then, pay special attention to it now. They have watched Sen. Bill Knowland of California get away with frank, blunt, sometimes bitter opposition to the President and suffer not at all. He even gets kissed for his opposition. They figure they can do the same. And they have.

Of late they have even seen this occur in the cabinet.

It is unheard of for a cabinet member to oppose the President publicly. He can do it privately, within the bosom of the Presidential family. But he doesn't oppose in public speeches, unless he resigns.

Yet Republican Congressmen have watched three cabinet members this year openly and vigorously oppose the President, and get kissed on the cheek for their pains.

Most important, of course, was Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey who came out publicly against the President's budget, and two weeks later was serenely entertaining the President on his Georgia plantation.

The other was Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, who, one day after the President said he was considering wage and price controls, flatly stated that wage and price controls were not being considered at all.

The third was Secretary of Defense Charley Wilson, who referred to the White House as a "dung-hill" and whose wife publicly scolded the President. Immediately thereafter, the President invited the Wilsons to ride in his private plane to Georgia.

Politics is a tough, relentless, ruthless game. It's played for high stakes, and when it's played for those stakes it's not usually played by amateurs. The President has shown a marvelous facility for politics on the popular plane, has been able to win the support of millions. But he hasn't learned the basic fundamentals of transferring popular support to political support on Capitol Hill.

Those fundamentals are: Support your friends; discipline your enemies; and don't change your mind when the chips are down.

Quiet India Revolution

Revolutions need not be bloody. The drastic reforms and changes in that vast pear shaped country in the Far East are beginning to show improvement.

In the first place, a new calendar has been adopted by India. This seems like a small change but it means that heceforth dates for observance of the numerous religions and seasonal festivities will be the same for its 300,000,000 Hindu inhabitants. The new calendar has caused some controversy because it will not effect official business nor payment of salaries. It is the beginning of an attempt to unify some of the varied groups into a common interest.

Another step in the quiet revolution is the great advance made in teaching the Indian villager new techniques in farm production which has increased the agricultural output and improved standards in decency, cleanliness and health.

So far, state and general governments have spent $118,000,000 on village improvements. The results might not look very startling to a successful midwestern or southern farmer in the United States, but for people who have been starving, dirty and ignorant for centuries, a covered drain, a small school house, new seeds, and farm implements, a trained midwife and a well with clean water for all the castes of India to use are indications that a gradual but positive revolution is taking place in India.

Guest Editorial—

PHILADELPHIA BULLETIN: New Boom In Industry. A new industrial boom is under way, but so far it hasn't come in for much public attention.

Beneficiaries are the 75 to 100 firms about the country engaged in aerial mapping. Most of them are booked solid with work for a year ahead.

One reason is the stepped-up highway program, and discovery that aerial mapping can be done more cheaply than surveys on the ground: In cases where a route is likely to encounter opposition, work from the air can be done without alarming land owners.

Ohio has long done aerial highway mapping. Its highway department figures the cost at $100 to $300 a mile compared with $1000 to $4200 on the ground. Time is cut by 10 to 80 per cent.

Now, if these aerial surveyors could take a lot of the traffic into the air with them, real progress would be made toward ending highway congestion.

For Love of a Lady

But Egyptian Invasion Failed Purpose of Eden

By Joseph A. Dear
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Sir Anthony Eden, according to knowledgeable sources, has lost his zest for life.

The ex-Prime Minister of Britain is in good shape physically, but the Suez fizzle crushed his spirit. That wild adventure nearly shattered Anglo-American relations.

A degree of harmony was restored at the recent Bermuda conference between President Eisenhower and Harold MacMillan, Eden's successor. There Ike learned that he wasn't the only one Eden had deceived. Sir Anthony also misled his own cabinet colleagues.

Inside story is that Ike phoned Eden early in the Fall. American intelligence got wind of the invasion plans about that time. The President told Eden we would flatly oppose any attempt to settle the Suez question by force. Ike said his information indicated an attack on Egypt was planned. He said he hoped the plan would be abandoned. Eden apparently permitted Ike to hang up with the conviction there would be no attack.

That's one reason the President was so furious at the time of the British - French - Israeli invasion, which came on the eve of elections here. He figured Eden, and the entire Conservative government, was involved in the double cross. The fact is, though, that only a few members of the Eden cabinet knew of the invasion plan. And, Eden never told his colleagues of the personal phone warning from Ike. This is the inside story Ike heard at Bermuda.

The Suez washout not only finished Eden, it very probably has finished his party, too. A Labor victory at the next elections is considered practically certain. Hugh Gaitskell is the man to watch.

It was all for the love of a lady, according to most authoritative sources. Eden married a Churchill second time around. She told him to be great. The big mess was the result of his effort to comply.

Subscription TV is one of the hottest issues in Washington.

The Big Two, CBS and NBC, dominate television broadcasting now. Their lock could be broken if the Federal Communications Commission authorizes a trial run of pay-as-you-see TV. Backers of this plan say it would: make TV truly competitive; rescue failing stations; give the public better and more varied programs. The networks claim public is getting more for no cost from them.

Naturally the Big Two hope to keep their lock. Most of the infighting is invisible to the public, but the scrapping is bitter. A decision at least partially favorable to subscription TV was considered a sure thing last month. But the FCC is wavering.

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.), chairman of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, is trying for a stymie. He is urging the FCC to duck and toss the issue to Congress. Harris' own committee has jurisdiction over legislation affecting TV.

And Harris recently acquired 25 per cent of KRBB-TV, El Dorado, Arkansas, for $5,000. According to experts, this was a most reasonable price because the station has an affiliation with NBC.

The Mature Parent

Praise Child's Hard Work Instead of Honors It Wins

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

During Martha's second term in the eighth grade, she maintained third place on its honor roll. This honor brought her another one—an appointment as class historian at her graduation exercises.

Her parents were delighted. They praised her as their clever girl and told everyone they knew about how wonderful she was.

Now neither of these school honors really conferred bliss on poor Martha. In the last busy weeks of school, the class historian appointment was a particular source of strain and overwork. The night before Martha's graduation, she broke down under it. Nervously exhausted, she burst into tears and had to be put to bed with a glass of hot milk.

But her younger sister never registered this reality. Her parents' overpraise of Martha's glories had so focused her attention on the glories that she was blind to the hard work which had produced the gloires.

Years later, still jealous, she will cry out to Martha, "Don't tell me you didn't love being Dad's clever girl! Why, you once cried your head off because you hadn't made top place on the honor roll. It was the night before you graduated from grammar school . . . "

Such resentment is bound to be fomented between children when we overpraise their achievements.

Their bad feeling reflects our mistaken values.

Had Martha's parents the moral values that would have enbled them to praise the hard work behind her honors instead of the honors themselves, her younger sister would have valued the hard work, too.

In place of envy, she'd have felt sympathy for her sister. Instead of coveting her honors as favors hopelessly remote from her, she'd have seen them realistically for what they were — results also available to her hard work.

In America we put much too much value on the success of effort. It makes us all very nervous. Nobody can possibly guarantee another the success of his effort whether he's an insurance salesman starting out to sell a new policy or Martha struggling to improve her school marks. When we put the cart before the horse and glorify her achievement of the honor roll instead of her struggle, our confusion creates confusion.

It produces rivalry, tension and other evil effects.

May

Perennials in my garden now
Are growing very fast,
So high the breezes make them bow
And shadows do they cast;
The buds have formed, will soon be out,
I know it won't be long,
The birds have built their nests about
I heard their morning song.
Peony buds grow every night
And Poppies, too — I think —
The double tulips are in bloom,
Some yellow and some pink;
The bridal wreath is lacy white
And right across the way
Spirea isn't out — not quite —
Bnt will be any day,
The hyacinths and daffodils
Have faded now and gone,
The parrot tulip, with it frills,
Right now is coming on;
The ants are rushing all around,
And I raise up a rock,
A fishing worm darts in the ground,
I gave him quite a shock;
A wasp flies through an open door —
And much to his surprise —
Then eagerly gets out once more
I'm sure he's very wise;
The grass seed planted now is seen
In bare spots 'round the yard,
It's pretty thin but yet it's green—
It's tryin' mighty hard.
How can the earth wake up this way,
A-poppin' through the ground,
Presenting such a bright array,
And never make a sound?

Fire of undetermined origin did extensive damage to the home of J. L. Mahagan, 19th and Summit, Wednesday morning, May 4.

1932

At the Central Missouri Stockyards here hogs were selling in the first week of May at from $3.10 to $3.45 per hundred pounds, and pigs at $3.25 to $3.75.

1932

Glen A. Custer, chief executive for the Boy Scouts delivered a talk on "Snakes" at an assembly in the auditorium of the Smith-Cotton High School.

1932

The Missouri Pacific shops locomotive and car departments reopened after being closed down for a month. More than 500 employes returned to work on a five-day-a-week schedule.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Drs. W. J. Ferguson, Charles A. McNeil, A. J. Campbell and F. B. Long were giving their services in examination of applicants for the Officers Training Corps to be held at Ft. Riley, Kan., for a three-month period.

1917

Mrs. A. J. Tucker, Mrs. J. B. Mockbee, A. D. Stanley, Clifford Johnson and F. T. Leaming were appointed by Mayor J. L. Babcock as delegates to the city planning convention in Kansas City May 7-9.

1917

Knowledge of White Cells Still Has Many Loopholes

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

Mrs. S. writes that six or seven years ago she had a blood disease called acute agranulocytosis and that at that time her white blood count was down to 300.

Now she is having trouble with her mouth and gums, her blood count is 4,400 and she wonders if there is any connection. She asks also what the white count should be.

It is impossible to answer the question on whether the trouble Mrs. S. is having in her mouth and gums is connected with her blood count.

All of us have white blood cells in our blood stream. These exert an important function, particularly in combating infection whenever it strikes the body.

There are several kinds of white cells. The number can be counted and the various kinds classified. The latter is done by smearing a small amount of blood on a glass slide, staining the smear and looking at it under a microscope.

Normally there are about 7,500 white cells in a cubic millimeter of blood and there is a fairly constant relation between the different kinds of cells.

In the presence of infecting germs the number of white cells is usually increased. Counting them is often an aid in diagnosis, in appendicitis, for example. This increase is called leucocytosis. Sometimes the number of white cells is decreased below normal and this is called granulocytopenia. The latter can be serious if infections arise simply because there are not enough cells to fight the germs.

Many cases of granulocytopenia have resulted from drugs or medicines. It is only the occasional person who gets such a reaction, but it does seem to be a sort of individual poisoning. Recovery usually takes place.

Acute granulocytosis is also a condition in which the number of white cells is lessened. This is usually ushered in with a sore throat. It is a specific disease and requires immediate treatment.

So far as is known neither granulocytopenia or agranulocytosis is related to leukemia. In the latter, some of the white cells grow wild; they are generally increased in number — sometimes enormously — and they appear in the blood in immature and abnormal forms.

Although much is known concerning the behavior of the white cells of the body, there are many gaps in such knowledge. Probably time will reveal much that we do not know now concerning the cause of the changes which develop.

There Are Ways of Telling When a Couple Is Married

You can be sure they're man and wife, just seeing them together, if they follow some of the rules I've outlined here.

When dining in a restaurant she gives her own order to the waiter, calls him back when she wants more coffee, pays more attention to other couples seated near them than to the man across the table from her, and sneaks a quick glance at the check when it arrives.

When she meets him in a public place he glances at his watch and tells her exactly how many minutes he has been waiting.

He doesn't stop with her but keeps right on walking when she lingers for a moment to window shop.

He can seem to be paying attention to what she is saying and still be watching a pretty waitress out of the corner of his eye.

When riding in car there is enough space between them for at least one other person.

They can sit side by side on a bus or train and carry on a conversation without ever turning their heads to look directly at each other.

When walking together one or the other is just a little ahead.

Opens the Door Herself

She gets in or out of an automobile without waiting for him to open the door for her.

He lights a cigaret, puts the package and matches back in his pocket and the moment they are stowed away, she asks for one.

She is doing a lot of talking and he is doing very little listening.

She stops to pick him up in a car and even though she is still sitting at the wheel, he starts opening the door on the driver's side.

It's easy to tell whether or not a man and woman are husband and wife, especially if you are married yourself.

Trim Furniture Prevents Cluttered Look In Apartment

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Today's young bride often must leave the comparative spaciousness of her family home to set up housekeeping in a cramped and stuffy apartment. But she doesn't need to be discouraged in her attempt to create there a comfortable and pleasant place to live. New, modern appliances, furnishings and ideas are ready to adapt themselves to her efforts.

New room air conditioners are better able than ever to solve the problems of inadequate ventilation, summer heat and excessive dirt that plague the small apartment dweller.

Units are smaller and thinner for easier installation and neater appearance. These slimmer units also are more flexible; they can be mounted in windows of various sizes, in the upper sash, lower sash or on a casement.

Some models operate on 115 volts where higher voltages are not available. Automatic thermostats control the operation. Some conditioners have a push-button device to inject air freshener into circulating air, removing stale odors.

Besides cooling and dehumidifying an apartment in hot weather, most of the new conditioners can be set to circulate air without cooling—a help at any season of the year. Better filters screen out airborne pollens and cut down on the greasy, acid soot which is one of a city's toughest housekeeping problems.

From a design standpoint, room air conditioners are no longer the bulky unsightly pieces of equipment they used to be.

One new line is color-styled on a do-it-yourself basis. The company supplies the paint in six colors in self-spraying containers. You (or the dealer) simply unscrew the air intake grill and control, spray-paint them in the color you want and put them back in place.

Another problem in a one or two-room apartment is furnishing it so it doesn't look stuffed and overcrowded. Much of the modern medium-priced furniture is scaled down in size for small rooms. Simple, clean lines reduce the risk of a cluttered appearance.

With the rapid rise of coordinated or correlated designs in every branch of the home furnishing industry, almost any budget—however slim—can swing a room that looks well-planned and inviting.

TV Will Serve Full Course Of Repeats

By Cynthia Lowry

NEW YORK (AP)—Now approaches summer, the season when we, the viewers, move into a world crowded with reruns and repeats.

By casual count—it has to be casual, for the plans of two of the three major networks are still in a state of flux and mind-changing—at least 33 popular shows from Sir Lancelot to Sgt. Preston from Rin-Tin-Tin to the Mickey Mouse Club, from This is Your Life to You Bet Your Life, will serve up repetition of the past season's programs as entertainment.

Those of us who feel strongly that once is enough must rely on a score or so of the stalwarts to provide us with relief from the heat. These include the three top big-money quiz shows, a continuation of the Sullivan-Allen ratings war, Meet the Press, I've Got a Secret, To Tell the Truth, What's My Line, Talent Scouts. For theater-type entertainment there remains Studio One, NBC's Sunday night hour-long drama and the 60-minute shows Wednesday night on both NBC and CBS.

Obviously there must be two schools of thought about summer television. Ed Sullivan, for one, has been running a successful, highly rated show for years. And now, it appears, the brains of the Steve Allen show feel it unwise to give their hard core viewers an opportunity to switch allegiance.

This Teenager Is Different From Others

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—When Sandra Dee turned 15 last week, she got a mink stole for her birthday.

This may give you the impression she is not a typical teenager. You're so right.

She's about as pretty a 15-year-old as you'd ever find, with wavy blonde hair and features that can only be described as perfect.

As for the other differences, she has:

Earned as much as $78,000 in one year.

Never had a date.

Only been kissed once—and then in the line of duty.

Sandra's perfect face naturally led to a modeling career in New York. She started out at $25 per hour posing for magazine covers. One of her first jobs was posing as the mother of a baby for the late American Magazine — and she in her early teens!

She has the kind of a face that can be photographed to appear any age. Soon she was posing for all kinds of ads and mag covers. Filmed TV commercials could raise her take to as much as $1,500 weekly. She's done many of them, and each time they appear she earns another $50.

But Sandra had the yen to be an actress, so when the call came for a test with Universal-International studios, she jumped at it. Her test turned out well, and she signed a contract. But she had to take a drop in earnings. She only gets $1,000 a week from the movies.

The screen test accounted for her first kiss. She had to go into a clinch with actor John Saxon.

"I was scared to death," she recalled. "But once I got into it, it was easy. I liked it."

But still she has had no dates in her young life. How come?

"I don't know," she replied. "For one thing, I've been too busy."

At 15, Sandra is starring in a loanout to MGM with Jean Simmons, Joan Fontaine, Paul Newman and Piper Laurie in "Until They Sail." The picture called for her to do her first dancing. She can't even rock 'n' roll.

"I don't like it," she commented. "And Elvis Presley is not my type."

Democrat-Capital Class Ads Are Workers You Can Afford To Hire! Phone 1000.

John Wayne in a scene from "The Searchers" a technicolor production which co-stars Jeffery Hunter, Natalie Wood & Ward Bond. The co-feature "3rd Man" has Joseph Cotton & Orson Wells in the staring rolls. Both features showing tonite and Monday at the 50 Drive-In Theatre.

Kazan Is Held To One More Fox Movie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The vastly independent Elia Kazan must make another film for a major studio before continuing with his own company.

The director has one more picure to make under an old contract to 20th Century-Fox, and it will be a story of the building of TVA. Now called "Mud on the Stars," it will get another title. Kazan who will do the picture this year, as yet has no plans for his next project as an independent.

Kazan, who has a film contract with Rip Torn, entered the controversy over the Texas lad's name. "Hasn't he changed it yet?" the director snapped. "It's got to go. Rip Torn sounds like Marlon Brandos tattered T-shirt. It's a satire on all the outlandish names for leading men."

Thought while listening to Dorothy Kirsten's lovely singing at the Jack Benny concert: Why does opera have to be sung in its original tongue? Seems to me opera fans would double or triple if folks could understand what the artists were singing about.

Oscar Hammerstein II proved with "Carmen Jones" that a good librettist could translate an opera into the American idiom without losing musical values. You say it's illogical for foreign operas to be sung in English? What could be more illogical than a Japanese girl (Madame Butterfly) singing to an American Navy man in Italian?

The new Cocoanut Grove emerged from its $600,000 face lift a handsome, tasteful pleasure palace with decor reminiscent of Chicago's Pump Room.

If there had been any doubts about Marilyn Monroe's ability as an actress, they are dispelled with her latest film, "The Prince and the Showgirl." All the trouble Laurence Olivier had with her on the picture — and there was reported to be considerable — appears to be worth it.

Like Jean Harlow before her, MM has made the transition from sex queen to comedienne of top ability . . .

Civic Club Raises $500 for Boy Scouts

The Versailles Kiwanis Club recently sponsored a campaign fund drive for the Boy Scouts. In a few hours the goal of $500 was reached. This money will be used locally for repairs, addition to the scout cabin and necessary equipment. The drive was headed by Sam M. Guenther.

Leon Marriott, who has given many hours to the Scout movement will continue as Scoutmaster. Jack Robinson and James Uptergrove will be his assistants.

DUTY CALLS. Deborah Kerr and Robert Mitchum in a poignant scene from Twentieth Century-Fox's distinguished film, "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison," which opens today at the Fox Theatre. In this scene, the two recognize each of their respective calls to service, despite the unusual circumstances that have marooned them on a lonely island behind enemy lines in World War II.

Civic Council Plants Trees and Shrubs

The Houstonia Civic Council met Tuesday night April 23 at the High School with nine members present. Mrs. Claude Nutt, president, opened the meeting with all joining in the Lord's Prayer. A report was made on the style show and Easter parade. The committee on beautifying the southwest entrance into town, told of trees and shrubs they had bought, which were planted on Wednesday. The Proclamation from the Governor on Keeping Missouri Beautiful was read. Mrs. J. C. Higgins was instrumental in having this proclamation made.

Serve Colorful Meals

So many kinds of bright green and yellow vegetables can be bought at the market or grown in home gardens that you should never catch yourself without any in the refrigerator.

Green vegetables are important in meals because of the nutrients they contribute—particularly Vitamin A and Pitamin C.

The intensity of the vegetable's color and the part of the plant from which it comes, are clues to its food value.

In general, the greener the vegetable, the richer it is in vitamins and minerals. And dark green leaves may carry several times as much of some nutrients as green stalks (asparagus), green fleshy pods (snap beans), or immature seeds (shelled peas or lima beans).

And the same thing about color intensity holds true for yellow vegetables—the deeper the yellow, the richer they are in vitamins. Carrots, sweet potatoes, yellow corn, yellow peaches, apricots, pumpkin, and winter squash are the main yellow vegetables.

Selecting Sport Shirts

Cotton is comfortable and absorbs moisture. It gets mussy when worn unless it has a special finish or is a type fabric such as mesh or knit.

Rayon is comfortable but is weak when wet. Needs a special finish to prevent mussing and shrinking.

Dacron and nylon hold a press but do not absorb moisture. They are more comfortable when blended with cotton or rayon.

Shrink resistant finishes will prevent the shirt shrinking out of fit. Look for these on the label or hand tag.

Vat dyes are high quality dyes used on cottons and rayons. When you buy that sport shirt, save the label. Information about finishes and fiber helps in laundering shirts because, you should not use a chlorine bleach with cotton or rayon having a special finish for minimum care or wrinkle resistance. May cause fabric to turn yellow.

Dacron, nylon, and acetate require a low temperature when you iron or press.

Cottons and rayons with special finishes or blended with dacron, nylon, or acetate hold oily stains. These stains may become permanently set when washed. Pretreat oily stains and soiled collars with a liquid detergent or spot remover before washing.

Five Housework Shortcuts

You may not have a push-button kitchen to work in. Few women have. But you can take a look at your work habits, your kitchen arrangements and the many products which simplify work, and see what changes you can make to lighten your load. Saving your energy is important to you and to the happiness and well being of your family.

Researchers have found five main changes women can make to simplify their work and save time and energy.

Change body position and motions. For example, make one trip instead of several by using a wheel table, tray, basket or laundry cart. Such equipment can save steps, stooping and reaching. Rearrange supplies and equipment so you can reach them easily. Good posture while you work will help you look and feel young. Use a stool or comfortable chair and sit at your work whenever you can. A sit-down ironing board is a wonderful energy saver.

See that your workplace is comfortable. For example, have work counters the right height for you. See that your tools are suitable. Arrange near each other equipment and supplies that are used together. Plan the work flow from right to left. Good light at all work counters conserves nervous energy and makes work more pleasant.

Omit unnecessary work and cut down on motions. For example, scald your dishes and let them dry. Prepare oven meals. Make beds completely on one side before going to the other.

Take a look at standards which affect your work and which might be changed. Do you iron everything? Try using folded sheets, towels, etc. Use place mats instead of tablecloths. Prepare one dish meals. Bake sheet cakes and serve from the pan. Cut biscuits on a baking sheet, or make drop biscuits. Peel vegetables over a newspaper—save scrubbing the sink.

Take advantage of new products to lighten your work. Use permanent finish mats or table covers instead of those you must launder. Use frozen products, quick-mixes and ready-prepared foods on days you help with a community project, attend PTA, a church meeting or your extension club. Use non-skid water resistant, self-polishing wax. Use crease and wrinkle-resistant fabrics in your family's wardrobe.

Tack these suggestions above your sink and try to adapt some of them to your routine, then you'll not be too tired to keep up with the pleasure and interests of the rest of your family. Enjoy living with the time and energy you can save.

Easier Window Washing

Washing windows will be less of a chore in spring house-cleaning if the right cleaning aid is added to water.

Use two tablespoons of ammonia to two quarts of warm water for clear, sparkling windows, or in cold weather, substitute two tablespoons of alcohol for the ammonia When windows are unusually grimy, try one tablespoon of washing soda in warm water.

If there is a glue—like substance from trees on the outside of windows, add one tablespoon of vinegar in place of other cleansers to the water. For rust that has been caused by window screens, use one tablespoon of kerosene to two quarts of warm water.

Says Employees Of Laboratory Got Radiation

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—An Atomic Energy Commission representative said Thursday that two and possibly four employes of the laboratory of the M. W. Kellogg Co. here have received radiation contamination.

An official of the New York construction company, W. B. Converse, said, "The situation is under control and there are no hazards."

Converse said he is "reluctant to name the men involved because casual visitors to the homes of these employes might receive secondary exposure to radiation, and we wish to avoid any hysteria on the part of the public."

The AEC said that the company reported the laboratory was severely contaminated March 13 when irradiated pellets of a mixture of compressed iridium 192 and aluminum metal powder were broken while being removed from cans. The laboratory was closed, but is expected to open in two weeks.

The commission said the laboratory was partially decontaminated. It said that two employes were present at the time of the incident and one of them may have inhaled some of the radioactive powder.

"Their exposure to external radiation is not believed to have been large." The men were not hospitalized.

Mrs. Wasson Heads Jefferson PTA

The Jefferson PTA held installation of officers at its regular meeting Friday, April 26. Mrs. A. L. Jones presided. The devotional was given by the sixth and seventh grades. The fifth grade presented a program of southern folk songs; Bobby Fisher gave a reading; Frances Granfield, Jessie Smith, Peggy Bales and Linda Buster gave a pantomime.

Mrs. Evelyn Rabourn installed the new officers. They are: Mrs. Dick Wasson, president; Mrs. Robert Fisher, first vice-president; Mrs. Nathan Brown, second vice-president; Mrs. John Engles, secretary; Mrs. Barbara Armstrong, treasurer, and Mrs. Robert Owens, histoian.

Mrs. A. L. Jones, outgoing president, expressed appreciation for support of the teachers and parents during the year.

The room count award went to the sixth grade.
